WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP
HIGH SCHOOL

Centerville, Ohio

This Is Our Story

This is our story. It belongs to each of us who have been a part of the fun and learning at Centerville. It is a story of English tests and geometry homework, of football games and band concerts, of interested teachers and close friendships. It is in a way a classic, for it will always have meaning for us.

Our story can be divided into several parts: setting, characters, plot, climax, and local color. Each of these parts, while separate, blends together to tell the story of our year at Centerville.

A Story of Spirit

Enthusiastic Centerville players shout encouragement to their teammates on the field.

Joan Houston, Mike Allan, and John Hartranft decorated their lockers to promote "School Spirit Week."

Spirit is evident in a rousing fight song, crowded bleachers, ringing bells, and winning teams. It is a contagious kind of loyalty—a pride in Centerville.

Linda Anglemyer receives an autographed football from Booster Club President Ralph Montello for selling the most Booster Club memberships. This organization plays an important part in our story.

and Fun . . .

Who will ever forget the fun of football games, pep assemblies, and class plays! Organizations and clubs provide vast opportunities for activity and friendship.

An excited crowd in the cheering section urges their team on to victory.

The cheerleaders received much help with pep assemblies—often with hilarious results.

of Work . . .

Discovering that informal discussions are an aid to learning are Carol McGee, Carolyn Coy, and Vicki Wroe.

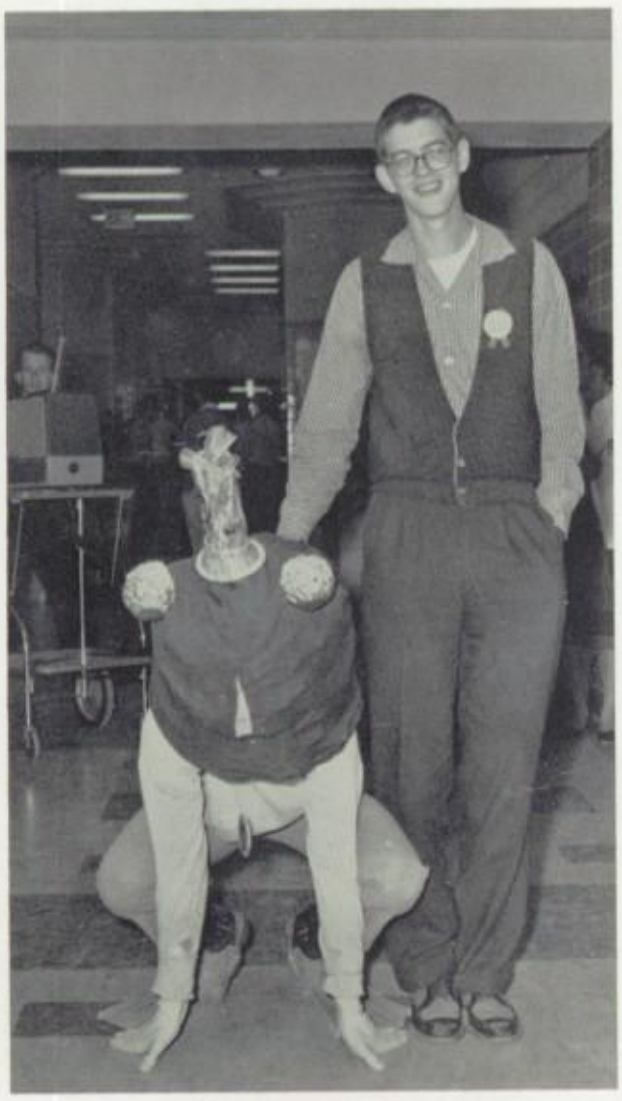
Diane Dewey and Terry Light spend each morning keeping students supplied with paper and pencils from the book store.

Work takes many different forms. The most usual, of course, is the work done by each individual in studying and striving toward a goal, but work is also the aid of gym assistants and student secretaries, and the constant effort of teachers and administrators.

Ernie Gulden and Tim Killen, members of the radio club, find that worthwhile hobbies often develop from scholastic interests.

and Play —

The Great Toad (alias Dave Riley) visited Centerville and presented to special people, such as his friend Mike Cherry, "The Great Toad Seal of Approval."



Marvin Loomis looks a little uneasy as Diana Liffick pins on his boutonniere.

Laughter and good times are essential to our story, and dances, plays, and games provide a needed break in school routine.

Sophomore boys relax after helping their class win first place in last year's Field Day.

Our Story of a

Janet Burch and Kaye Knierer stand at attention during the national anthem.

Mr. Noffsinger joins Student Council members in taking down the Christmas tree.

Through service and friendship each student contributes to our story.

Jo Beale, Barbi Swindler, Penny Shroyer, and Sue Ellinger find the register a good place to catch up on the latest happenings.

The Danish-modern benches in the east entrance were a welcome addition. Dave Long, Judd Rosell, and Bob Nearing typify the many students who gather here to talk during leisure time.

Year at Centerville

In sun or snow when the final bell rings, students are ready for various activities and ever-present homework.

Setting

The setting can be many things.
To some it is the teachers and the classrooms where they spent anxious hours studying for the world of tomorrow.
To others it is the corridors
where they met friends and exchanged exciting gossip
To still others
it is the auditorium and gymnasium with their medley of concerts, plays, and sports.

Administration, School Board, Assistants set

MR. HADLEY WATTS
Superintendent of Schools.

Another group, playing an important part in the story of CHS, is the PTA. Pictured here the PTA president, Mrs. Lois Knierer, presents birthday cakes to Mr. Watts and Mr. Gilbert Buriff at their annual money-raising project, the Centerville Ox Roast.

Our schools have made unprecedented progress in the eight years that Mr. Hadley Watts has headed them. The system has changed in direct relation to the growth and change in this sub-urban area.

When Mr. Watts became superintendent, there was only one school in our system, and it was not new. At that time there were 26 teachers. Now there are five schools manned by 92 teachers. The total number of children in our school in 1951 was 599; this number now totals 2,326.

Mr. Watts keeps well ahead of school problems and abreast of the times by reading many newspapers, magazines, and books; by listening to the radio, TV, and speakers; by studying trends in school population and growth; by serving on many committees, boards, and study groups; and by keeping himself well informed on school legislation.

MR. GEORGE NOFFSINGER
High School Principal

Although our principal, Mr. George Noffsinger, has only spent three short years at CHS, he has helped to put our school on the map. As a school administrator, he has few equals and probably no superiors.

Despite a hectic schedule, Mr. Noffsinger manages to remain entirely human. He finds his school unfailingly interesting, if demanding. He never misses a game, a dance, a play. He is proud of our teams, our assemblies, our publications. He takes school problems to the Student Council and values its co-operation. His co-operation, with faculty and student body alike, is unequaled.

One of his many daily tasks is an nouncing the daily schedule (right).

standards and build for a better tomorrow

Mr. Louis Mittler is Administrative Assistant in charge of curriculum.

To aid in running this enlarged educational plant, Mr. Watts now has two able and specially trained assistants, Mr. Louis Mittler and Mr. Lowell Gingrich. Each has his own specialty and his own duties. They share the heavy responsibilities and help to take some of the burden off the shoulders of the superintendent of schools.

Mr. Mittler meets with the English teachers to discuss the curriculum in the English Department.

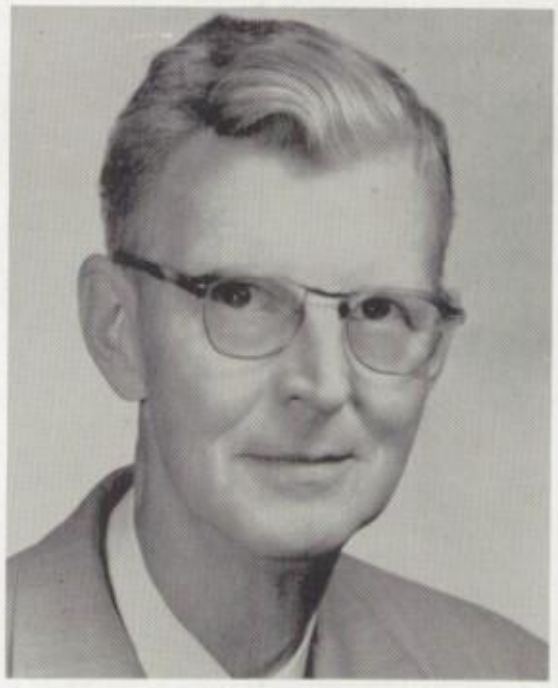
Mr. Gingrich discusses one of his problems with his bookkeeper, Mrs. Sarah Ringo.

Mr. Lowell Gingrich is Administrative Assistant in charge of business.

Our Board of Education plays an important role in our story. Pictured below, the board convenes for one of its many meetings: Mrs. Frederick Smith, President Carl Schell, Mr. Hubert Kline, Mr. Charles Burkhart, Cafeteria Manager Mrs. Alice Kerley, Superintendent Hadley Watts, Clerk Gilbert Buriff, O.P.H. Snyder, Administrative Assistant Lowell Gingrich.

Mr. Doan aids students with problems

Mr. Doan offers assistance to Sue Sacksteder, one of the 500 students who may seek his guidance.



EDWARD N. DOAN
Ohio Wesleyan, A.B.
University of Wisconsin, M.A.
Speech, P.O.D., Guidance Counselor

Assistants give service, do extra jobs,

"Little things mean a lot." The office assistants proved this by doing those extra things that helped to make our school life run smoothly—answering the telephone, taking messages, running the mimeograph machine, taking attendance checks and keeping those records. They helped in many ways during our school years.

acquire skills, and apply those skills.

Assisting Mrs. Brown, our librarian, are thirteen student librarians who check attendance, sign out books, card and shelve them, and help other students use the catalog.

Centerville Senior High and Junior High bookworms congregate each period in the library to brouse in our collection of over 2750 books. The books borrowed each day average about 75. We were one of the fortunate schools to have the privilege of using the Traveling High School Science Library.

Our story would not be complete without giving special acknowledgment to the cooks, who prepare our food under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Kerley.

Students are transported safely to and from school in all kinds of weather by the bus drivers. They also chauffer students to extra-curricular activities.

Students gain proficiency in English

Mrs. Tite instructs a senior English class in the proper use of grammar Mrs. Will helps junior students in the use of the library.

EUDORA TITE
Bowling Green U., B.S.
English 12, Junior Class Adviser

JOHN TITE
Bowling Green U., B.S.
English 10, Sophomore Class Adviser

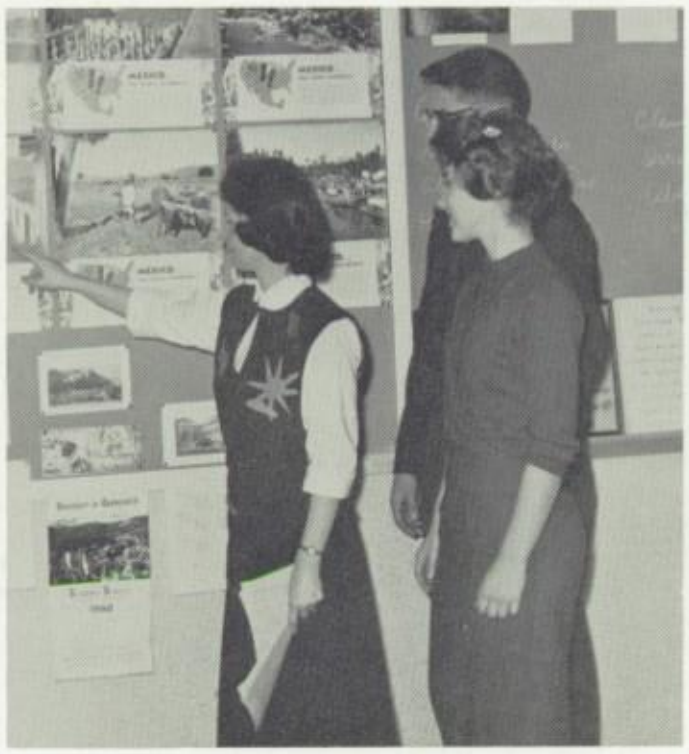
JULIA WILL
University of Dayton, B.S.
English 11, Honor Society Adviser

In English class students battle the who's and whom's of their native language and explore the past, present and future through literature. No matter what the career, the graduates will value the excellent speaking and writing foundation they received at Centerville.

Mr. Tite explains the short story to sophomores.

Kathy Laughna gives a speech for the junior speech class, which is taught by Mr. Doan.

and acquire new skills in languages



Mrs. Schreiber points out a scenic Mexican town to Alicia Adams and Bill Moore.

Porter Welbourne, Susan Campbell, Tom Schubert, Peggy Vlerebome, Richard Cunningham, and Darlene DuVall record a French Christmas carol.

ANNA KLEPPER
Ohio State University; Miami University, B.S.
English 9 and 11, German I and II

Guten Tag! ? Como se llama? Comment allez-vous? Gallia est omnis divisa in partes tres. These phrases and others can be heard in many classrooms as students struggle to master subjunctives, gerundives, and irregular verbs.

Mrs. Schreiber and Mrs. Watts instruct Latin students who learn not only grammar, but much about Roman culture. Mrs. Schreiber also teaches Spanish I and II.

A more recent language class is French which is taught by Mrs. Dewey. Here seventh, eighth, and ninth graders learn basic conversation.

Reading and vocabulary are stressed in Mrs. Klepper's German classes. Students also enjoy records of German music.

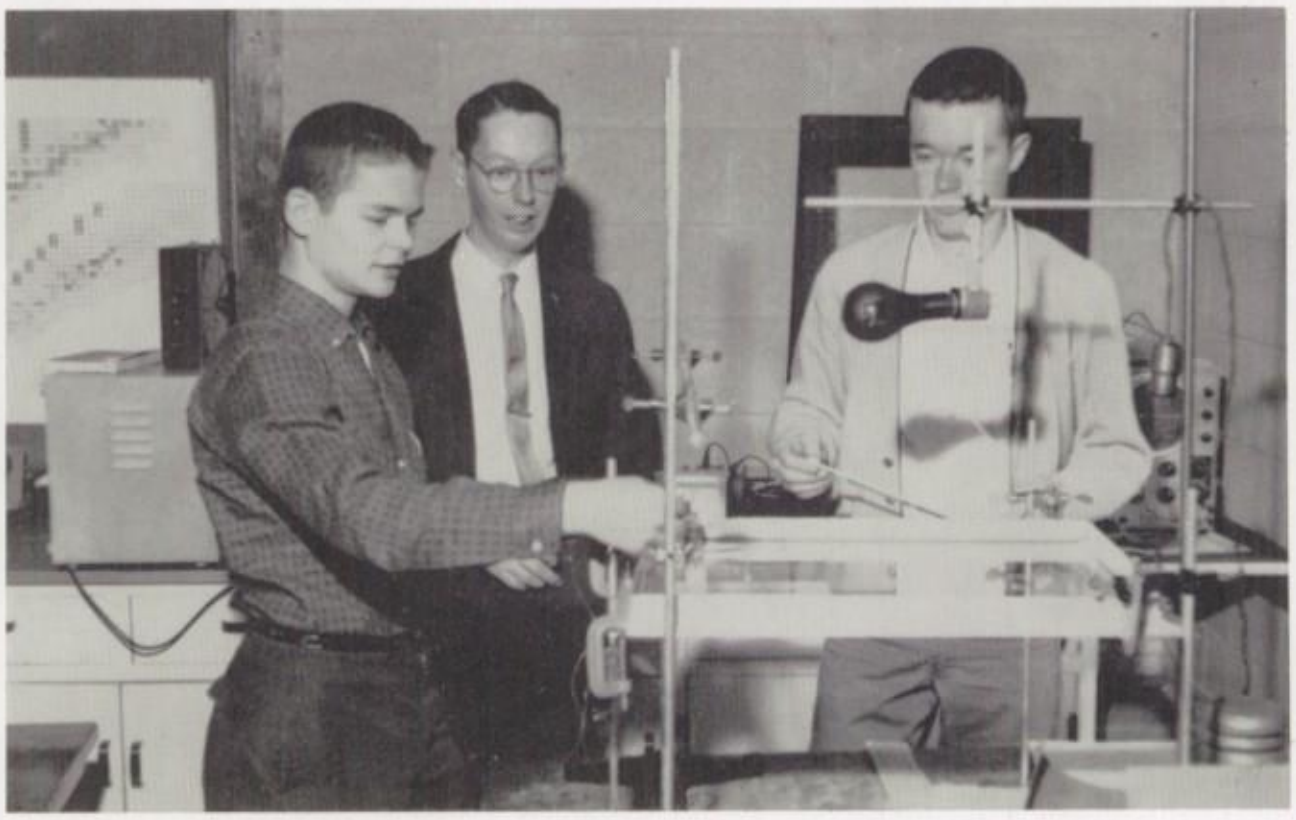
ALEEN M. SCHREIBER
Nazareth College, B.A.; University of Michigan, M.A.; University of Cincinnati.
Latin II, Spanish I and II

Mrs. Klepper explains vocabulary to Darryl Cowden and Sally Lang.

Terry Allan, Chuck Ramey, Gretchen Stuhlmiller, and Jim Littler admire wax tablets made by Latin II classes.

Science Department trains physicists,

DAVID E. LAIRD
Miami University B.S.; University of California; University of Connecticut
Physics (PSSC), Modern Physics, Chemistry, Co-Sponsor Science Club



Mike Allan, Mr. Laird, and Ed Bell demonstrate the ripple tank in general physics.

This year Centerville is offering a new general physics course, PSSC, which has been developed at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Illinois. We are proud to be one of 580 schools in the United States using this new course. The goal of the course is to show how modern ideas of science developed to lead to an understanding of the secrets of the atom.

Modern physics, now in its second year at Centerville, builds on the PSSC course and offers more detailed experimental work in the study of the atom and the philosophy of science.

As a supplement to the chemistry course a 6:15 A.M. lab period was established once each week with Mr. Laird instructing.

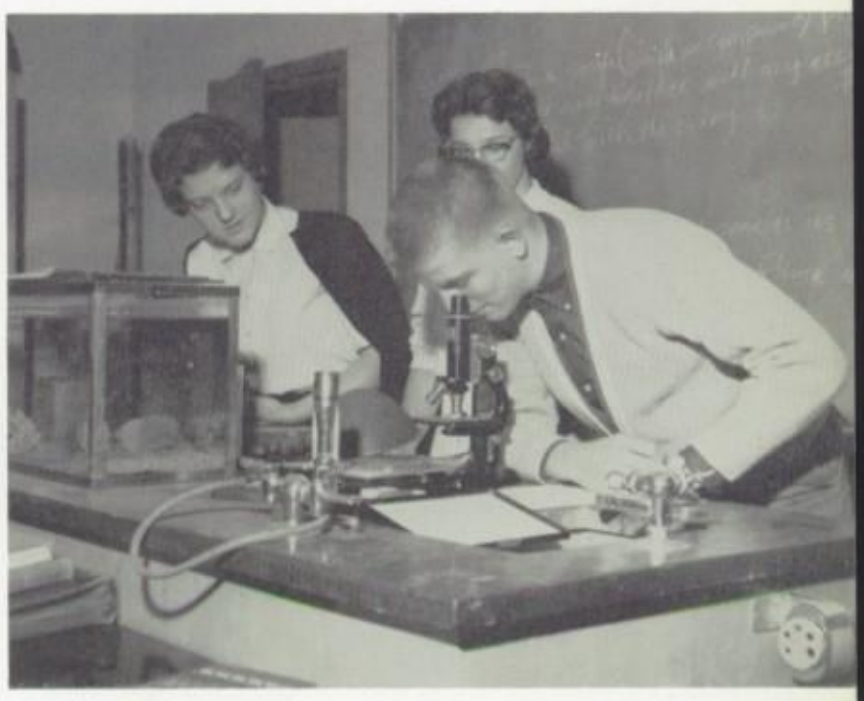
Ken Swanson and Ernie Gulden perform an experiment during the wee hours of the morning.

Dan Poff checks the oscilloscope and radiation scaler which he built in modern physics.

Chemists, and Biologists of the future

WILLIAM N. LEYDA
University of Dayton, B.S.; Hanover College
Chemistry, Science Club Adviser

JOHN I. CASE
University of Michigan; Hanover College, A.B.
Biology, Social Studies, Conservation, Freshman Football and Basketball Coach



Jim Shawhan looks at microscopic plant life in biology, while Margaret Bair and Susan Dietz wait their turns.

Chemistry students find their work quite challenging as they delve into the theory of chemical relations and structure of matter. In the laboratory they learn proper technique and safe handling of potentially hazardous chemicals.

Students in biology study living things from the smallest organism to the largest trees. Laboratory experiments and collections help to give students a better understanding of the world around us.

In the enrichment program in our science curriculum, ninth grade students may take biology instead of general science.

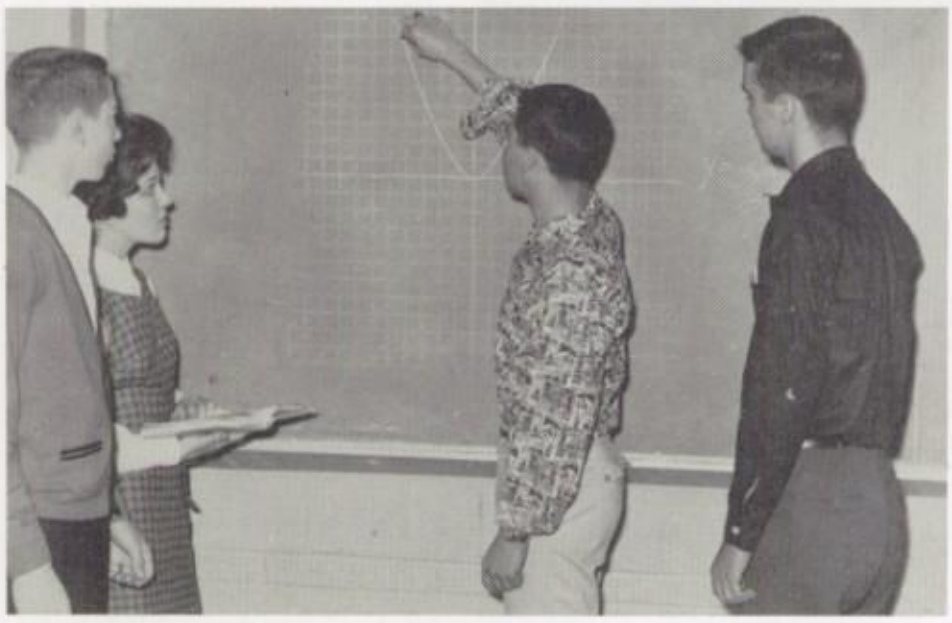
R. George, C. Stonecash, P. Schumacker, and J. Worley study preserved plant life in biology.

Students, under Mr. Leyda's supervision, work in chemistry lab, the heart of the science department.

Mathematics Department undergoes changes

DALE E. GRIESMEYER
Otterbein College, B.S.
Algebra II, Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Senior Class Adviser, Faculty Representative to the Student Council and Athletic Board.

Ed Bell, Dick Schubert, John Hartranft, Rick Miller, and Mike Allan work with a polar triangle as Mr. Griesmeyer looks on.



Bob Blesi and Janet Rhoades watch and Tim Killen graphs a parabola in algebra II. Dick Schubert, Student assistant, stands in readiness to offer assistance.

The high school mathematics department was revised slightly this year. Formerly the college preparatory course included solid geometry and trigonometry for senior students. This year, however, a new course was installed. The seniors still study solid geometry and trigonometry, but they also briefly study college algebra, calculus, and several other fields.

Another change in the department was the combining of plane geometry and solid geometry into a single year course for one of the sophomore classes. The freshmen and junior courses did not change. The freshmen still study algebra I and the juniors, algebra II.

Health and Physical Ed., Girls' Interscholastic Coach, GAA adviser.

A girls' physical education class learns skill and teamwork in volleyball.

Girls' Physical Education aims to provide recreational activities adapted to the individual. These activities carry over into later life and help maintain good physical condition and a healthful attitude toward exercise.

Boys' Physical Education provides an opportunity for boys to learn physical skills, physical and mental discipline, a knowledge of the rules of games, and good sportsmanship, as well as such traits as leadership and fellowship.

Students receive a basic knowledge of anatomy in health education which stresses the development of good health habits.

Vocational Classes

Mr. Thomas Seal, who prepares students to meet industry's expanding need for skilled labor, heads the Industrial Arts Department. This department offers a variety of courses for a solid background in working with tools and machinery. Those who take part in this program learn the techniques and terminology of the industrial world. Courses in drafting, architecture, printing, photography, woodworking, and general shop help to further the students' knowledge and understanding of industry.

Vernon Lauer and Ray Loase are shown working out the plans for a house in Drafting 12.

Mr. Seal checks steps in readying the chase for the press. B. Simko watches as J. Savely sets type, K. Baughn checks for errors, and S. Haenzi ties up the type for the press.

L. Darner is shown printing tickets. The Graphic Arts Department printed tickets and programs for many school sponsored activities.

Plot

This is our plot,
an exciting mixture
of adventure, drama,
and romance, snatched from time devoted to study and hard work.
It is the excitement
of à football game,
the romance of a "Moonlight Serenade,"
the comedy of a class play, the satisfaction of a job well done.

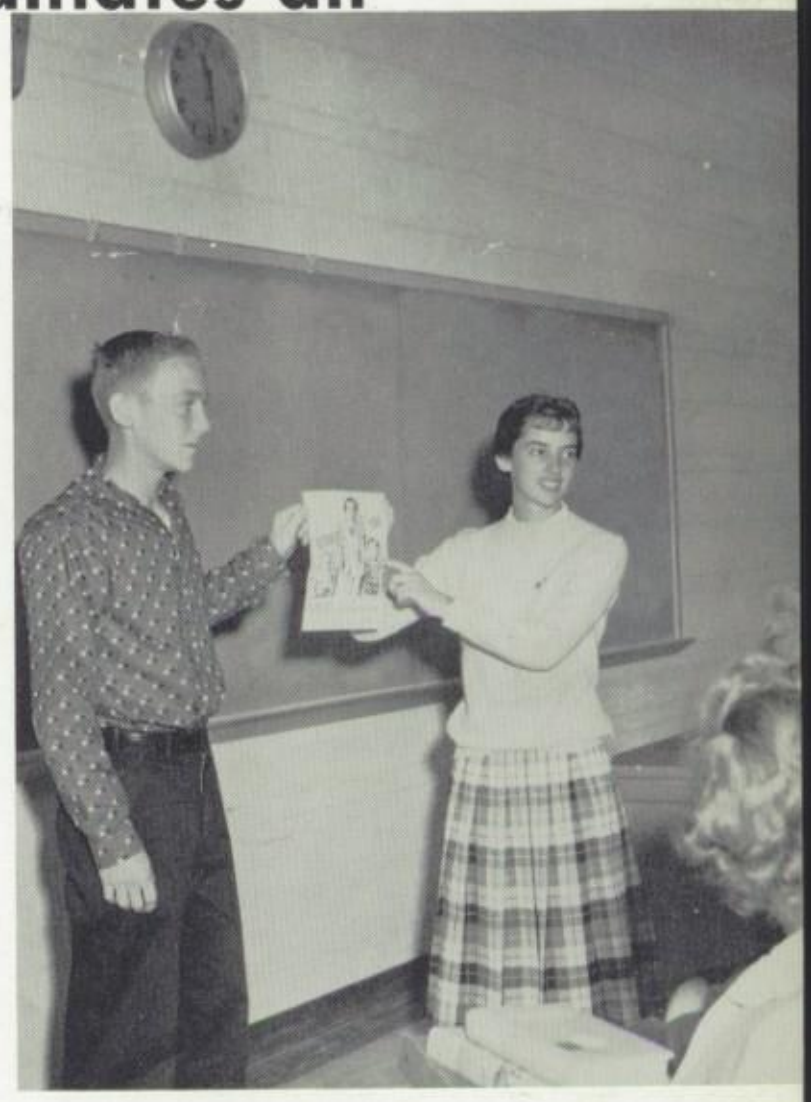
Drama encompasses many activities, from class plays, to organizations, to the band and chorus. It is the heart of the extracurricular activities.

Student Council coordinates all

Speaking for the students, serving the school by sharing responsibilities, and, in general, coordinating ideas for the welfare of all is the job of the Student Council. It is composed of nine students, and is led by President Linda Bussard. Mr. Noffsinger, Principal, serves as adviser, and Mr. Greismeyer is the faculty representative.

To develop school spirit, they helped promote the new fight song and alma mater and chose a standard class ring. They also planned the activities for football Parents' Night, and sponsored several dances.

By coordinating ideas between students and administration, they were able to set up policies for the school. By taking the responsibility of conducting collections for such drives, as the Community Chest-Red Cross drive, they were able to serve the school and the community.



Tom Swan and Lynn Mowry explain to the students the Community Chest-Red Cross drive.

A fairly new organization at Centerville, the National Honor Society offers good reason for high scholastic achievement. The Society was started last spring in time to initiate 11 seniors from the class of 1959.

This year 58 students from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes were initiated, and an active organization was started.

Youth Forum Panel, with Mike Allan, Derek Clawson, and Sue Sacksteder of Centerville, presents a program on the military services.

This year, for the first time in our history, the Youth Forum Panel, sponsored by the Dayton Daily News and the Dayton Junior League, included Derek Clawson, a Centerville senior, who was chosen as a permanent member of the panel. The panel visited our school in January of this year and presented an interesting program on the military services.

Other honors were won by Centerville students for high scholastic achievement, outstanding citizenship, and speaking ability. Most of these awards were presented at the annual Awards Assembly.

Students' interests help to form new clubs

To meet the interest of students in a growing school, the Future Teachers of America was organized this past year through the efforts of Mrs. Virginia Starbuck, Mrs. Julia Will, and Martha Palmer. Twenty-two students joined the F.T.A. which shows that there is a definite interest in the teaching profession.

The F.T.A. offers members a chance to study the lives of great educational teachers by seeing motion pictures, to obtain a better understanding of the value of education by hearing guest speakers, and to gain practical experience by substitute teaching in the elementary schools.

The Science Club was very active during the school year. They took many trips to the Engineers Club to hear lectures on the subjects of science, education, and glass. Members compiled a chart on the salts of the basic elements, worked on projects for the local, district, and state science fairs, and had panel discussions and reports from individual members about recent developments in scientific fields.

Chess Club members D. Clawson, J. Deeken, N. Olberding, G. Berry, T. Mundhenk and Adviser Mr. John Tite watch as T. Mantia makes a strategic play. The Chess Club, newly organized last fall by Mr. Tite, played eight matches with other schools. Among the schools were Oakwood, and Fairmont. The club participated in a league made up of nine schools.

Elkonian records year's story

Filled with enthusiastic ideas, the Elkonian staff, under the direction of Mrs. Anglemyer, began last spring to sell advertising for the 1960 Elkonian. Meetings were held to prepare sixteen pages of advertising to meet the first deadline. When school began, flash bulbs popped and pencils flew as the staff, led by Editor Linda Bussard, rushed to meet deadlines. The staff discussed the 1961 Elkonian while they eagerly awaited the result of their long hours of work.

WAPITI informs student body

"Deadline," the most familiar word in the journalist's vocabulary, got as thorough a workout as ever this year. With a larger and more frequently published WAPITI to put out, staff members found that their days seemed to dissolve into one frantic dash after another for news. A well-informed student body was the result, however, and though things may have been hectic at times to the point of chaos, the staff can take pride in each and every edition of the WAPITI.

One of the fastest growing clubs at Centerville is Girls' Athletic Association. This club sponsors intramural and interscholastic sports, with activities such as hockey, baseball, volleyball, and softball. High-points of the year are the adoption of a family for Christmas, the Alumni Party, and the Mother and Daughter Banquet.

Belonging to GAA is a great experience in both sportsmanship and friendship; one that won't be forgotten for a long time.

Officers and advisers look over this year's schedule. Right to left: President Lynn Mowry; Vice President J. McWilliams; Secretary S. Billett; Treasurer K. Johnson; Historian J. Cowin; Senior Rep. J. Dressing-room excitement was at a peak before the "Tequila" performance.

A new and welcomed type of entertainment was provided at basketball half times by the Centerville Elkadettes. The drill team, composed of energetic senior girls, was sponsored by Miss Barbara Ulery and Miss Mary Owen.

Limited time, practice facilities, and money were all obstacles faced by the group. However, practices were held at odd hours, any available space was used for rehearsals, and each girl made her own uniform and accessories to help lighten the burden. Fun and experience were had by all.

Dramatics add interest

The Class of '60, during their junior year, presented "HEADIN' FOR A WEDDIN'," a hillbilly comedy-farce. The play took place in the mountains of West Virginia or Tennessee. The cast found the play enjoyable to present, and when a chair broke accidentally during the public performance as Bertha Blairhouse (Linda Anglemyer) sat down, the play ended in near hysteria. However, quick thinking on the part of the cast saved the day.

Gracie May, portrayed by Sandy Clark, was one of the highlights of the play. She received many ovations for her sly remarks, constant scratching, quick action, and ad libbing.

to our story

"Aunt Cathie's Cat," a mystery-comedy was presented by the senior class November 19 and 20. The play, written by Felicia Metcalfe, was filled with tense excitement as well as unrestrained laughter. Mrs. Virginia Starbuck, director, was assisted by Judy James, student director.

Concert Band strives for perfection

The high school auditorium was the scene in January for the first of three band concerts given by the Centerville High School Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Don Peiffer. "Land of the Vikings" by Erickson, "The Flower Drum Song" by Rodgers and Hammerstein, and "Gloriole" by Noble were a few of the musical numbers the seventy-five instrumentalists performed. Steve Paul, student conductor, led the band in the "Fight Song" and "Alma Mater" which he wrote.

Band members will always remember the annual band dance and the awards banquet which was sponsored by the Band Parents Association. With the new point system in effect this year, the members worked toward a scholarship to a music camp the following summer.

Striving for perfection, the band entered the district music contest in March. Eighteen solos and ensembles entered the contest with many receiving superior ratings in state competition as well as in the district.

A concert for the high school student body was given, and in May the annual spring concert ended a successful year.

Marching Band inspires

With a flash of batons and a swirl of skirts, Centerville's seven majorettes march before the band at games and parades. Head Majorette Sue Billett works with the girls to create new routines which add extra sparkle to band shows. At sometime during the football season each majorette twirls her own routine in front of the crowd at the pre-game show.

An attractive addition to the band this year are the six flagbearers. Each girl in this group carries the pennant of one of the schools in the L.B.L.

spirit and enthusiasm

Sue Billett brings the marching band to attention.

Band Director Don Pieffer shows Dick Schubert, Student Director Steve Paul, and Head Majorette Sue Billett the formations to be used at the next game.

Marching smartly down the football field, the Centerville High School Marching Band presents a skillful performance of precision. Under the direction of Mr. Don E. Pieffer, the band performs each week at home and away games with shows that vary from comedies to precision drills. Much work is a necessity for any organization, and the band is no exception. Practice is held sixth period and after school when necessary. There is music to learn, steps to practice, and those ever-changing formations to remember. Working together, cheering together, and traveling together on long bus trips helps band members to develop a spirit of friendship which is one of the most rewarding experiences of band.

Adventure was a part of our story. Football coaches, Frantz and Saatkamp, show the ever present spirit of striving for success that is a part of Centervilles' athletics.

Early victories over Greenon, Carlisle, and Wayne got the Elks on the road to a successful season. After the Wayne game the squad journeyed to Dixie and overcame a first half deficit and defeated the Greyhounds by the score of 42-28.

Jefferson was the next and toughest opponent on the '59 schedule. The Elks played their best game of the year in handing Jefferson an unexpected defeat.

After a non-league victory over Mad River, the gridders met Germantown and West Alexandria. Both teams defeated the Elks, thus destroying Centerville's hopes for a second consecutive league title. With six wins and two losses the team finished third in the league.

Under new head coach, Larry Marker, the Elks captured a second place tie in the Montgomery County League. Wayne handed Centerville a loss in the first league game. The Elks then defeated powerful Dixie. This was the only loss Dixie suffered in league play.

The team continued to win league games with victories over Farmersville, Germantown, and Jefferson.

Centerville's Elks were tied with Dixie for first place at the beginning of the second round of play. Wayne again beat Centerville thus putting the Elks in second place. Dixie defeated the team next, but the Elks came back with wins over Farmersville and Germantown. In the final league contest, Jefferson handed the varsity its fourth league loss against six wins and tied Centerville for second place.

The reserve squad, which is composed of sophomores and juniors, was a disappointment in the first half of the season. However, with only two wins, the team came on strong and won its last four out of five contests. Most of the reserve players will be on the varsity next year since all but two varsity players will graduate. If the reserves play the same caliber basketball next year that they displayed the latter part of this season, hope for a good season should become a reality.

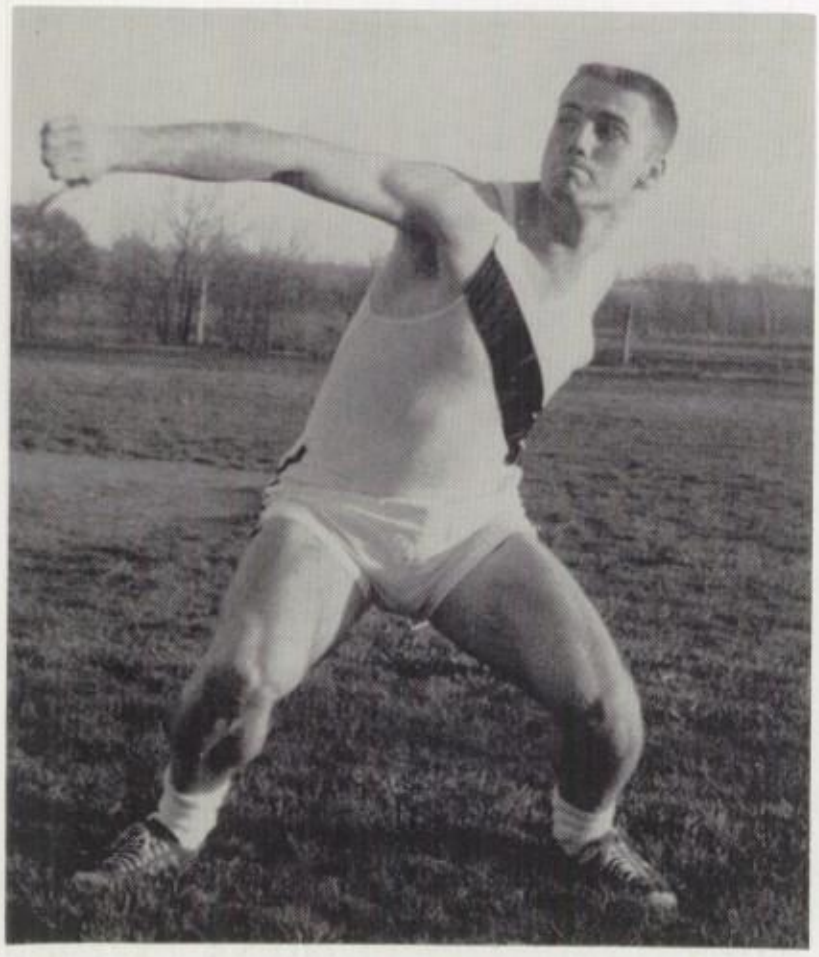
Cindermen top 5 school records



Bob Wilson takes aim at discus record.

Once again Centerville can be proud of its track team. The perennial county champs displayed their power and speed during the track season and established five school records in doing so. Bob Wood, one of the outstanding coaches ever to direct Centerville athletics, led the team to five wins in seven dual meets along with a second and third place in two outstanding invitational meets.

The team was a remarkably well-balanced team and managed to score points in nearly every event in all the dual meets. The self-disciplined, and hard-working athletes should feel very proud of their record since all but two of the teams they met were from considerably larger schools than Centerville.

At the conclusion of the season Jerry Dusseau was chosen most valuable man on the team.

Determination leads varsity to victory

Sparked by determination and enthusiasm, the 1959 varsity hockey team was able to tally four wins and three losses. Strong defensive action by the backfield stopped tough opposition as the forward line passed and dribbled the ball through the opponents, down the field, and into the cage. New equipment was a great aid to the team's success.

Although the girls' Reserve Volleyball team recorded one win and four losses, the experience gained should be valuable in future seasons. Coach Case gives Bill Kreidler instructions during the Wayne game.

The football future at Centerville should be a bright one. The Junior High team, coached by John Case and Jack Longcrick, possessed speed, power, size, and a league championship. The little Elks did not lose a league game, but they tied Jefferson and Wayne. Miamisburg, a non-league opponent handed Centerville its only defeat of the season by the score of 24-6.

In league play the team outscored its opponents 90-32. The highlight of the season was the 42-6 crushing of Germantown.

Several of the Elks were cited at the football banquet for their performances. Bill Ellinger and Tom Mahan were elected co-captains. Steve Kramer was cited for his fine defensive play, and Lester Unger received recognition for being the team's leading scorer.

The seventh, eighth, and ninth grades were combined to form the junior high team. Formerly the ninth grade had a separate team with the seventh and eighth grades forming another team. The combining of the three classes was a success and will probably be continued in the future.

The team showed signs of being ready for reserve ball next year, though. The little Elks had a close victory over West Carrollton, which was a much taller team. The squad also had wins over Farmersville twice and Dixie once.

The spirit of ROMANCE is an essential part of every good story, and at Centerville it finds a place among beautiful queens and gay dances. Miss Susan Ellinger, 1959 Homecoming Queen, is typical of this spirit in our story.

A look of surprise comes over Susan Ellinger's face as Mr. Noffsinger presents her with a bouquet of red roses and announces that she is the 1959 Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming, with its game and dance,

As the date of Homecoming approaches, the whole school becomes involved in plans and elections. The sophomores and juniors each elect two attendants and two escorts to represent their class. The seniors elect two boys as escorts and three girls. The student body elects one of the senior girls as queen. The king is a member of the football team, elected by the team. The identity of the king and queen remain a secret until half-time of the Homecoming game.

Judy Fowler and Pete Drake, sophomore attendant and escort, walk proudly across the field.

lends excitement and romance to our story,

The juniors chose Denny Stull, Nancy Holmes, Judy Julian, and Richard Fox as their attendants and escorts.

The seniors were proud to have as their attendants and escorts Joe Mulheim, Jackie Pummill, Sandy Owen, and Ronnie Miller.

and leaves memories of an "Enchanted Dream."

Ron Stingley admits Marvin Loomis, Diana Liffick, Jim Gingrich, and Sharon Kling to an "Enchanted Dream."

Judy Swanson and Jim Hartranft dance to the music of Paul Little's orchestra.

Homecoming provides the Sophomore Class with their first major class project. With this comes the responsibility for the half-time ceremony and the dance held in the gym after the game. There were committee meetings, changes in plans, and last minute details; but the result was a well-planned coronation ceremony and a memorable dance, "Enchanted Dream."

Music of Paul Little's orchestra, visions of blue crepe paper, corsages, beautiful dresses, and the royal court, blended together to make the 1959 Homecoming an important chapter in the story of our year.

Tim Patterson, Louise Hutchins, and Sue Heckman receive refreshments from home room mother, Mrs. Loeb.

Melody Reigns at 1960 Journalism Dance

THE ROYAL COURT: Dick Streit and Louise Hutchins, Journalism; John Har tranft and Lynn Mowry, Student Council; King Ronnie Miller, Basketball; Queen Pam Depew, TRI-HI-Y; Linda Bussard and Tim Patterson, JCOWA; Judy McWilliams, GAA; and Steve Paul, HI-Y.

This year's Journalism Dance, "Melody Reigns," was sponsored jointly by the Elkonian and Wapiti staffs. The crowning of Ronnie Miller and Pam Depew as Elkonian King and Queen marked the climax of the dance.

The various clubs of Centerville High School, JCOWA, GAA, TRI-HI-Y, HI-Y, Student Council, Basketball, and Journalism, chose the ten candidates for King and Queen.

The services of Jolly Rogers, WONE disc jockey, were contributed by Woodward's Variety Store. He gave away several albums and records donated by the Town and Country Music Box. Queen Pam was presented with a bouquet of beautiful pink and white carnations, the compliments of Mitman's Florists.

Elkonian King, Ronnie Miller, crowns Pam Depew as Elkonian Queen.

Christmas formal provides romance.

The annual Christmas dance, sponsored by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, was held in the high school gymnasium on December 19. The dance, Yuletide Treasure, was highlighted by the music of the Marshal Reed Band and the presenting of the Yuletide Treasure to Jane Kelsey.

Students do a fast jitterbug while other dancers prefer to watch.

Richard Fox, Carol Mays, Dave Andrews, Tonya Livingston, Debbie Miller, and Denny Stull take time out to enjoy the atmosphere.

Students enjoy refreshments served by Mrs. Ruth Kress.

Dancers enjoy the music of Marshal Reed's Band.

Happy couples dance to the music of Earl Holderman and his orchestra.

Memories of Bali Hai linger on Bali Hai, the theme of South Pacific, was the theme of the 1959 Junior-Senior Prom. Palms and fountains provided the setting for the dinner and dance. There was entertainment by the Three Honeys, Sons of Song, and Earl Holderman's Orchestra. The king and queen, chosen at the dance, were Kim Corpstein and Gordon Craft. After the prom there was bowling and breakfast at the Bar-Jan, a fitting ending for a wonderful evening.

Prom Queen Kim Corpstein gets a kiss from King Gorden Craft while Jerry Dusseau and Judy Knierer look on.

Steve Mastbaum and Julia Daily enjoy refreshments in their own way.

Climax

I am the senior.
I am at the height of my high school career, ready to embark on the road of life. I am eager to start, but I am also frightened at the prospect of leaving the protection of school and home.
I will accept the challenge of the future with courage, however, and strive to make my journey in life happy and successful.

The Class of 1960, soon to become alumni of Centerville High School, pauses for a moment to look back upon its activities of the past three years. The parties, the plays, the tests we passed and failed, the games we won and lost, the Homecoming, the Prom we gave for last year's seniors and the one at which we were the honored guests —all these are a part of our memories. We are grateful for the opportunities we have had to learn, work, have fun, and prepare ourselves for the years beyond high school.

To our sponsors: Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Schriber, Mr. Seal, Miss Ulery, Mrs. Will, Mr. Hoover, Mrs. Anglemeyer, Mr. Griesmeyer, and Mr. Peiffer, we give our sincere thanks for helping to make the past three years unforgettable ones.

CLASS SONG OF 1960

By Steve Paul and Derek Clawson

We have come to the time
Our journey is done,
And now we must say sad goodbyes.
But we'll never forget
The work and the fun;
We'll remember these all of our lives.

We have struggled through math,
With tangents and sines,
Through physics and poetic rhymes.
Declensions we've mastered,
Musical parts,
History, mechanics, and homecoming arts.

There's the parties and dances,
The snacks after games,
With the friends who were so close.
And we'll never forget
The night of the prom—
The end to a perfect year.

Now the future is ours
To plan and pursue,
To follow our own separate way;
But we know that we'll meet,
As friends often do,
In times many years from today.

Seniors bid fond farewell to classmates.

Local Color

This is the town
which provides our local color.
It is comprised of the grocer,
the druggist,
the barber,
the builder,
the plumber,
and the many others
whose patronage makes possible the recording of our story.

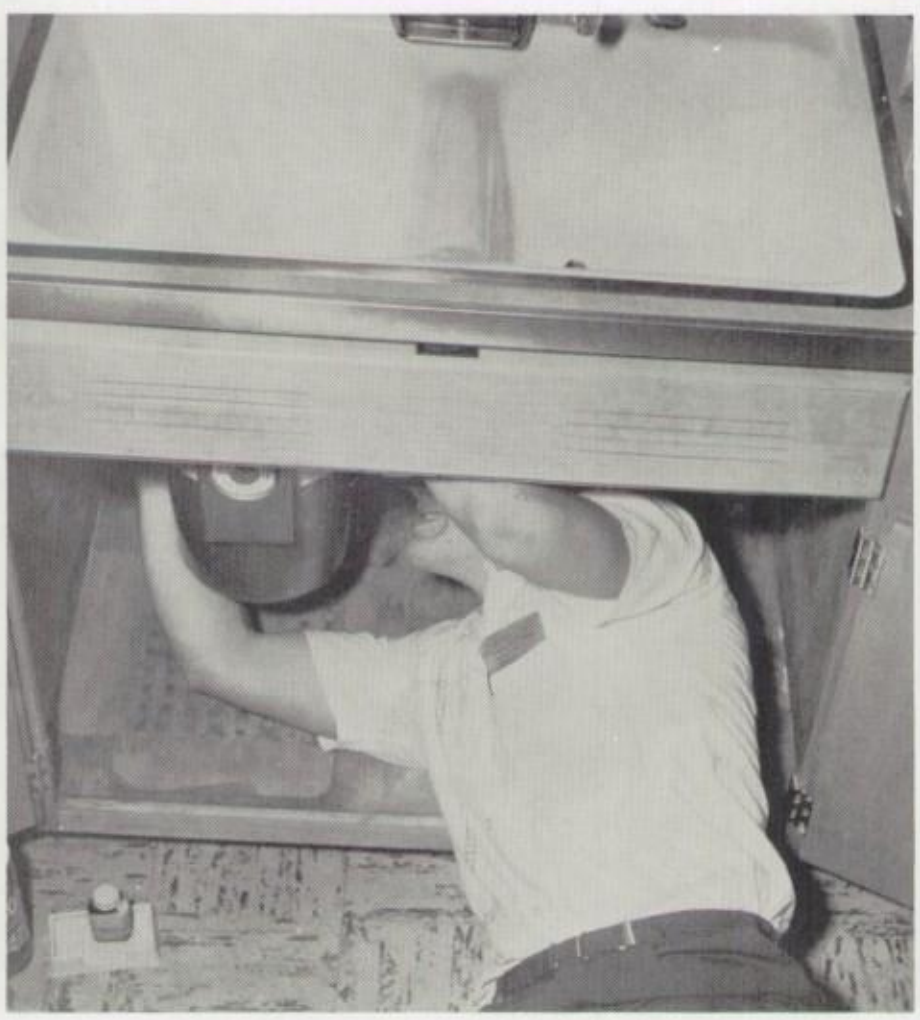
SWEET DREAMS!

And they will be sweet ones, since the bed that Sandy Clark has just collapsed on is from BARNET'S in Bellbrook. What's she dreaming about? Why — all the other furniture and appliances at BARNET'S, of course!!

Expecting a shortage?

Lynn Dickey isn't really trying to corner the ice cream market—it's just that she loves the stuff! If it's GEM CITY ICE CREAM, we agree with her completely. GEM CITY — SUPREME SINCE 1901.



Plumber's helper?

"Why certainly!" says Bob Dice, grabbing a monkey wrench. While Bob isn't exactly experienced in fixing garbage disposals and such yet, he highly recommends the services of DICE PLUMBING in Centerville. They're experts!

"But, LADY! We close in five minutes!"
Women and exasperated shoe clerks must be the same the world over. Poor Judy Ewing still can't make up her mind. Actually, she'd like to take all four pairs. They're all finest quality and from RODERER'S SHOE STORE in Oakwood.

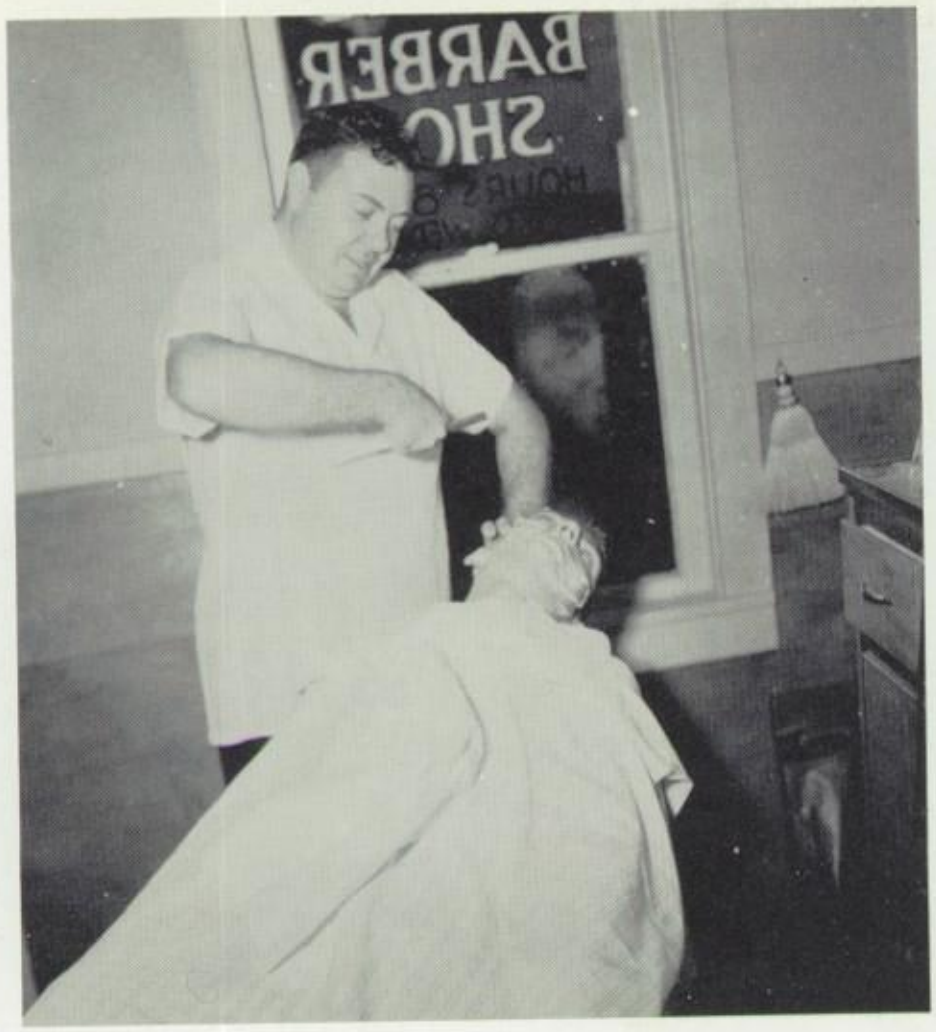
EEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!!! FABIAN!!!
As you can plainly see, Joan Childer's taste in music doesn't run strictly to the classical. Whether you prefer Bach or Brahms, Fabian or Fats Domino, you'll find your favorites at the MUSIC BOX in the Town & Country Shopping Center.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT? I HAVE A COLD!
Letty Lou Horton does look a little under the weather, doesn't she? Whenever you feel as miserable as this, remember HILL'S PHARMACY in Centerville. They're a sure cure for a cold and any other aches and pains!!

Our Community's First Bank

A GOOD START IN LIFE!

The savings habit is one which should be developed early in life. Though short on years, these Centerville second grade financial wizards are definitely long on foresight. They know that the best possible place for their first savings accounts is in the FIRST NATIONAL BANK in Centerville.



"Haven't lost a patient yet!"
Says Jack, the barber, as Bob Hutchins looks doubtfully at the razor. Don't wory, Bob — JACK'S BARBERSHOP in Centerville has been working on "little shavers" for a long time!!

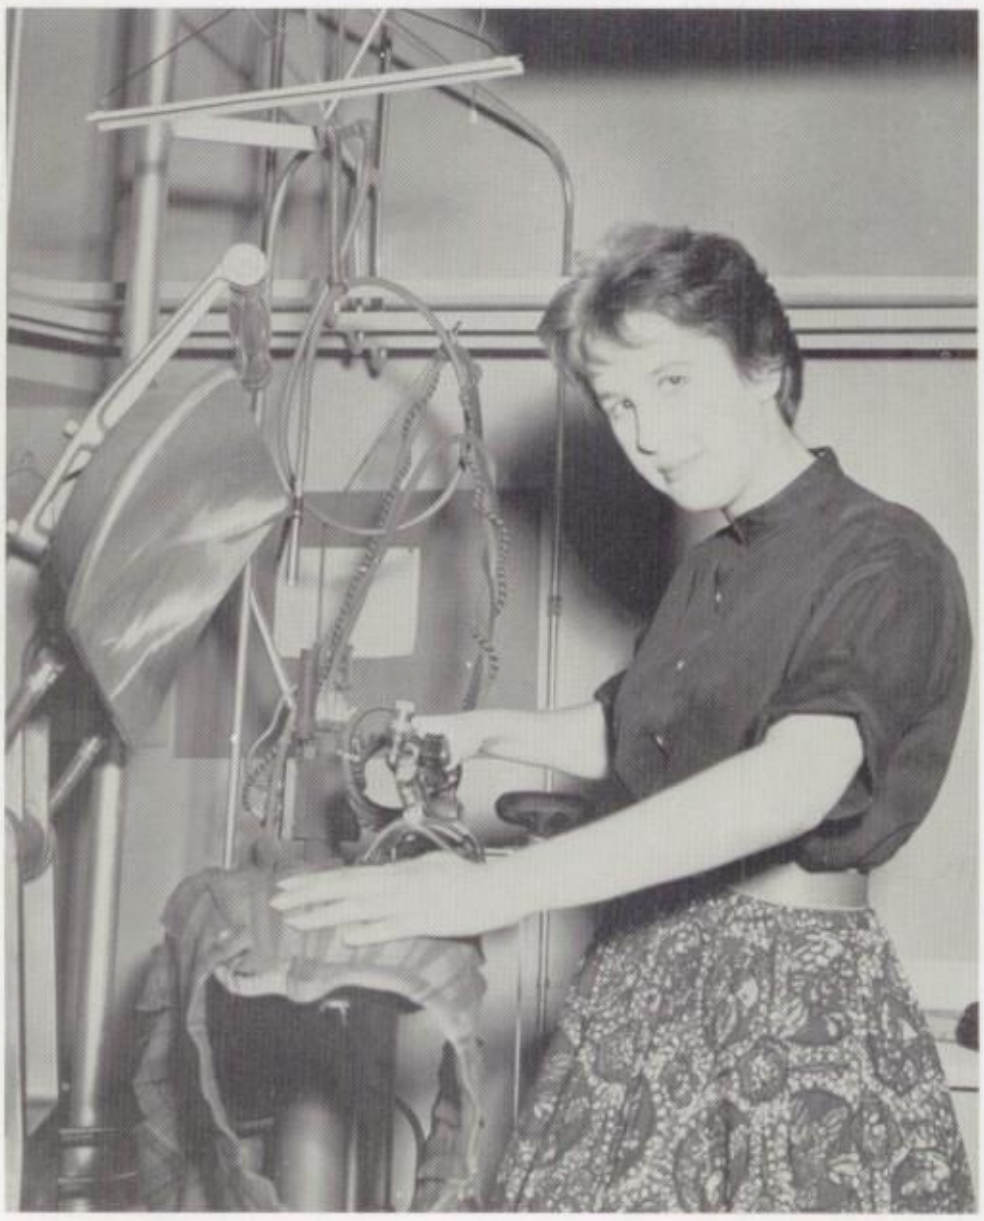
Tarzan in the jungle?
Of course not! Marty Wilson in TOWN AND COUNTRY FLORISTS! Besides palm trees, TOWN AND COUNTRY FLORISTS are famous for beautiful corsages and flower arrangements of all kinds.

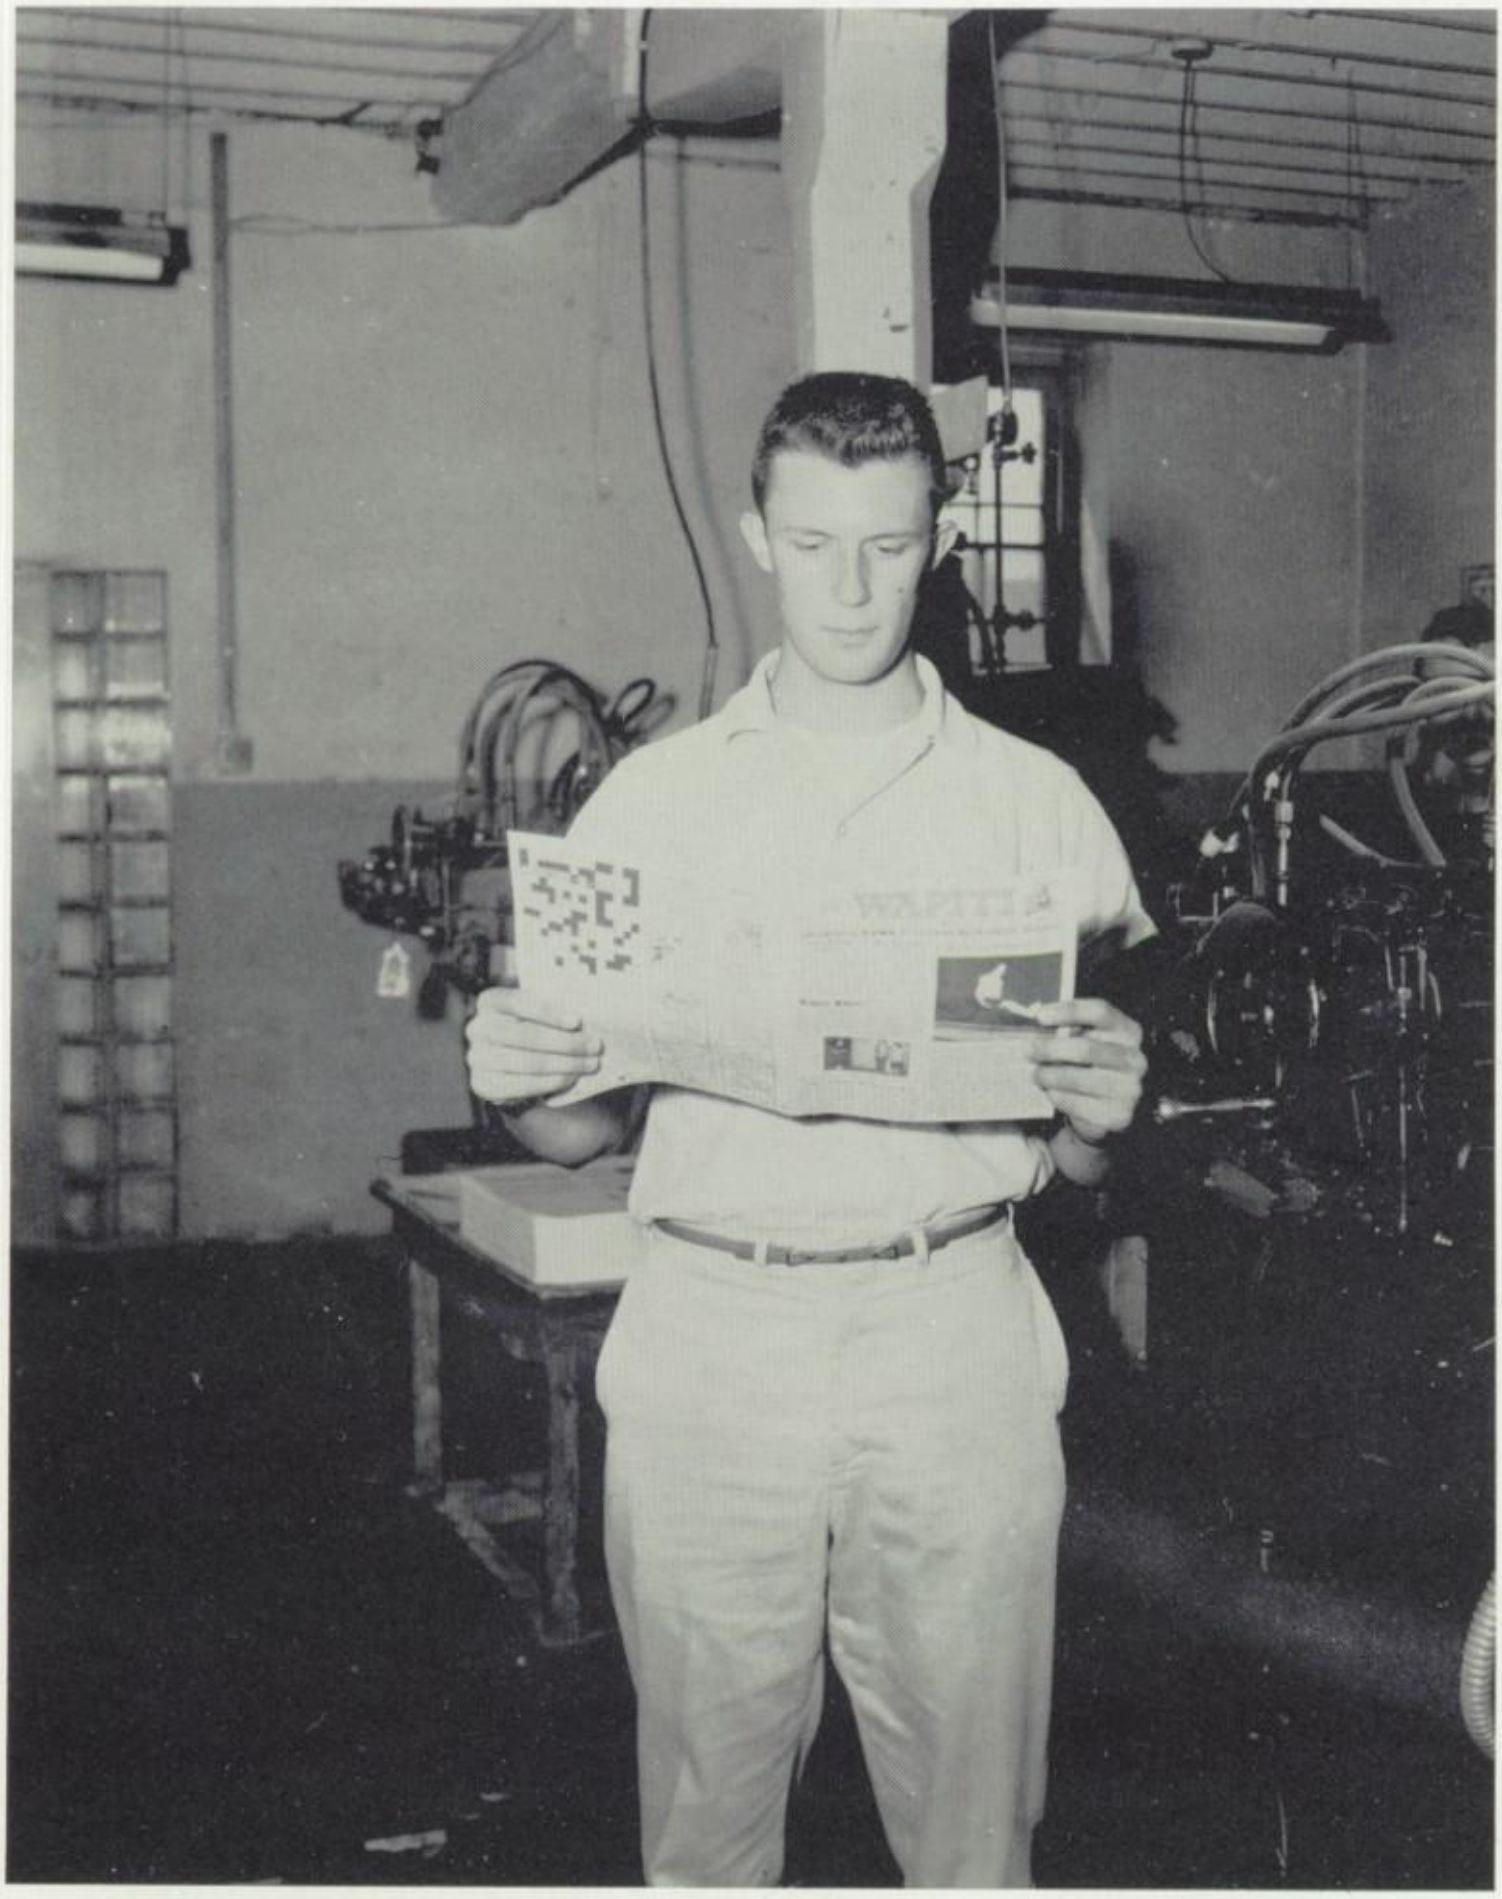
Fugitive from a harem?
Nope — seems Janet Chaney got carried away the last time she visited BEIGEL'S JEWELERS, 20 North Main Street in Dayton. Whether you're a woman of decision or have absolutely no will power at all like Janet, you'll be carried away by the lovely jewelry at BEIGEL'S.

Good grief! Another Beatnik?
Well, not exactly. Dave North is merely beating the drum—er—washtub for the PK HOME SHOPPING CENTER, 6171 Far Hills Avenue. Once you've seen PK's mammoth selection of everything from toys to garden equipment, you'll feel like beating drums, too!

Now, THERE'S a list for ya!!
Ernie Talos is doing the family shopping — some family!! He knows, though, that no matter what he needs or how much, he'll find it at the CENTERVILLE IGA MARKET.

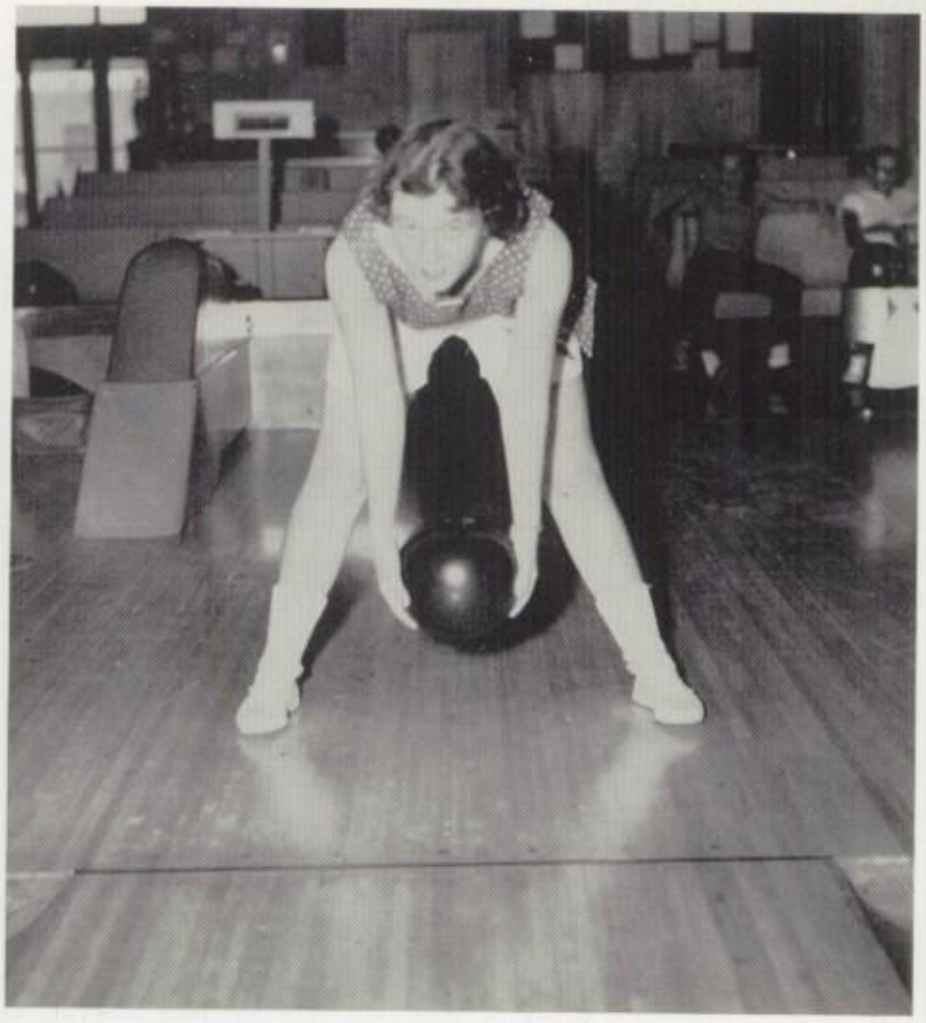
Just a hard-working drudge!
Yep! As all her friends will certainly agree, that's Cay Wiesler! But why slave at your laundry as poor Cay does? Send it and all your cleaning problems to CLEANERAMA on West Whipp Road and relax!





Hot off the press!
Joe Mulheim couldn't wait for the latest copy of the Wapiti which just rolled off the presses at the McNABB PRINTING COMPANY in Miamisburg. Thanks to McNABB, Centerville students can be mighty proud of their school paper.

"I'm innocent!!"
Yells Derek Clawson, as the warden turns on the juice. Tsk! Tsk! Derek! That's just what you get for not taking your wiring problems and electric repairs to HARRY McCOY of CENTERVILLE ELECTRIC, 8765 Yankee Street.



That's a new one!
Marg Kline may have rather unusual form, but when it comes to bowling, she knows that the BAR-JAN BOWL on South Dixie is the only place to go! The BAR-JAN-home of Centerville leagues!

"My dad built this!"
"And I helped," says Jo Beale, hanging on for dear life. All kidding aside, Jo's dad, with the help of the BEALE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY, 5655 Marshall Road, Dayton, Ohio, really did build the new Ida Weller Elementary School, for which the younger set are, no doubt, everlastingly grateful.

Something new has been added!

In addition to handling all office supplies and equipment, ROTH'S OFFICE EQUIPMENT, East Third Street, Dayton, Ohio, has added a complete decorating service. Now, more than ever, it's ROTH'S for an efficient, smoothly running office.

"STICK 'EM UP!!"

Snarls Jim "Killer" Hartranft. This is a good example of what won't happen if you entrust your valuable savings to the care of the MIAMISBURG SAVINGS & LOAN ASOCIATION, 20 East Central Avenue, Miamisburg.

Make a wish!

Wonder what Barbara Andrews is wishing for as she happily pitches pennies down that well? More pennies? That's silly! She's hoping for dinner at the WISHING WELL INN in Centerville, of course! What else!

"We don't move people — but everything else goes!!"
Says Gerry Gahris, wondering where her chair went. Yessir — everything goes — and it goes best by GAHRIS MOVING AND STORAGE in Centerville.

OH no — not THAT!!!

We must admit that Sue McKinstry has the right idea in thinking that the selection of paints at CENTERVILLE HARDWARE is beautiful enough tc use on her nails, but we recommend them for walls, too!!

From the most expensive to the least!

Whether you drive a Thunderbird or an economical foreign car, you can get your insurance from our dad, C. M. ANGLEMYER," say Rick and Linda Anglemyer. C. M. Anglemyer is the agent for the MacBETH INSURANCE AGENCY, Hulman Building, Dayton. They also sell fire and all types of casualty insurance.

Her first corsage!

Though they may be younger than most, Nancy Bussard's many male admirers know that a corsage from OAKWOOD FLORISTS in Oakwood is the best possible way to "say it with flowers."

Locked out?

Looks that way, doesn't it, girls? And that's a pretty exasperating place to be when you're hungry — especially when the YUM YUM INN in Kettering is the eating place in question. Try the YUM YUM sometime—you'll find them much more than hospitable.

"At Ease!!"

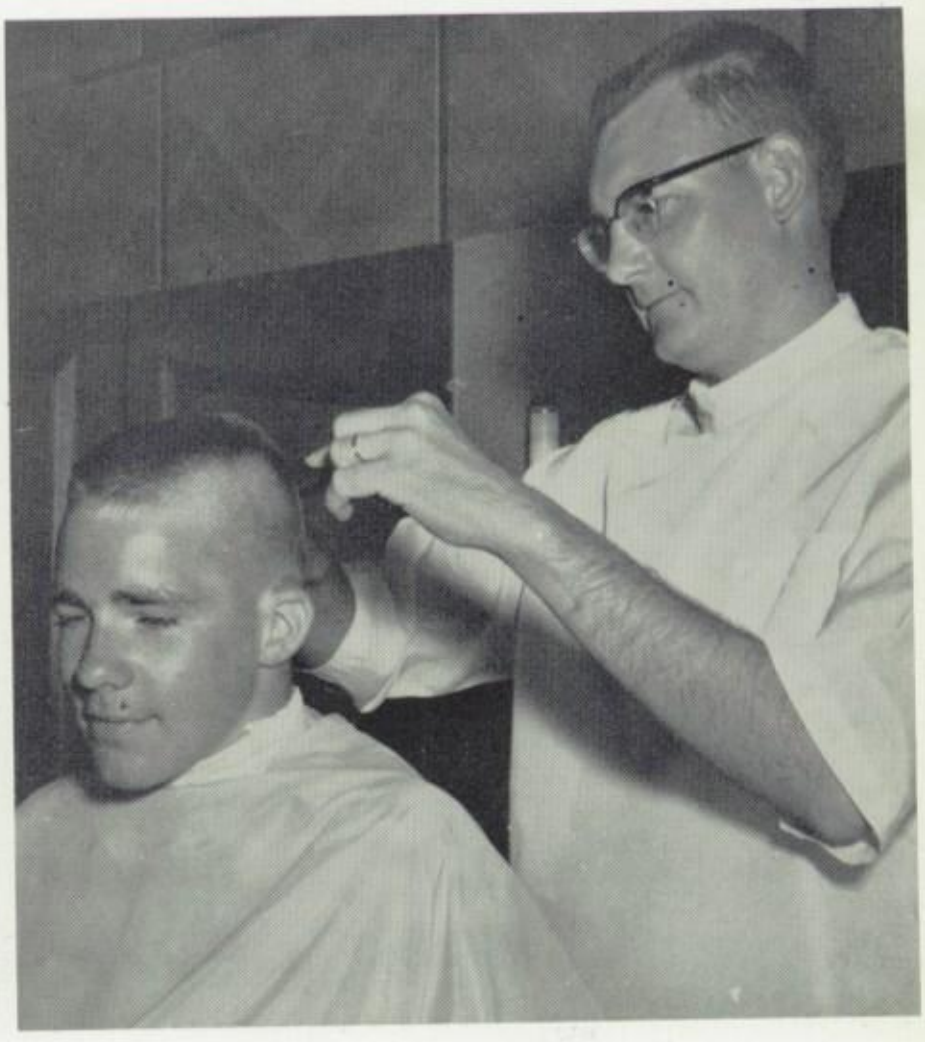
Ever wonder why our majorettes and band members are always so snappy? One of the main reasons is FRIEDLANDER'S CLEANERS, 2781 N. Gettysburg Avenue, Dayton, Ohio, who, for years, have kept our band uniforms at their brightest. Why not take all your cleaning problems to FRIEDLANDER'S? They always give expert service.

This can happen to you!

A fire such as this one can happen to anyone. But why not be safe rather than sorry? Be properly insured with KERMIT E. LONG, 241 N. Main Street, Centerville. MR. LONG also sells automobile, life, and casualty insurance.

There he goes!

Johnnie is off again to help another unfortunate motorist. Though it helps, you don't have to have an accident to qualify for Johnnie's experienced service. Whatever your automotive needs — remember JOHNNIE'S SHELL SERVICE, 6001 Far Hills.



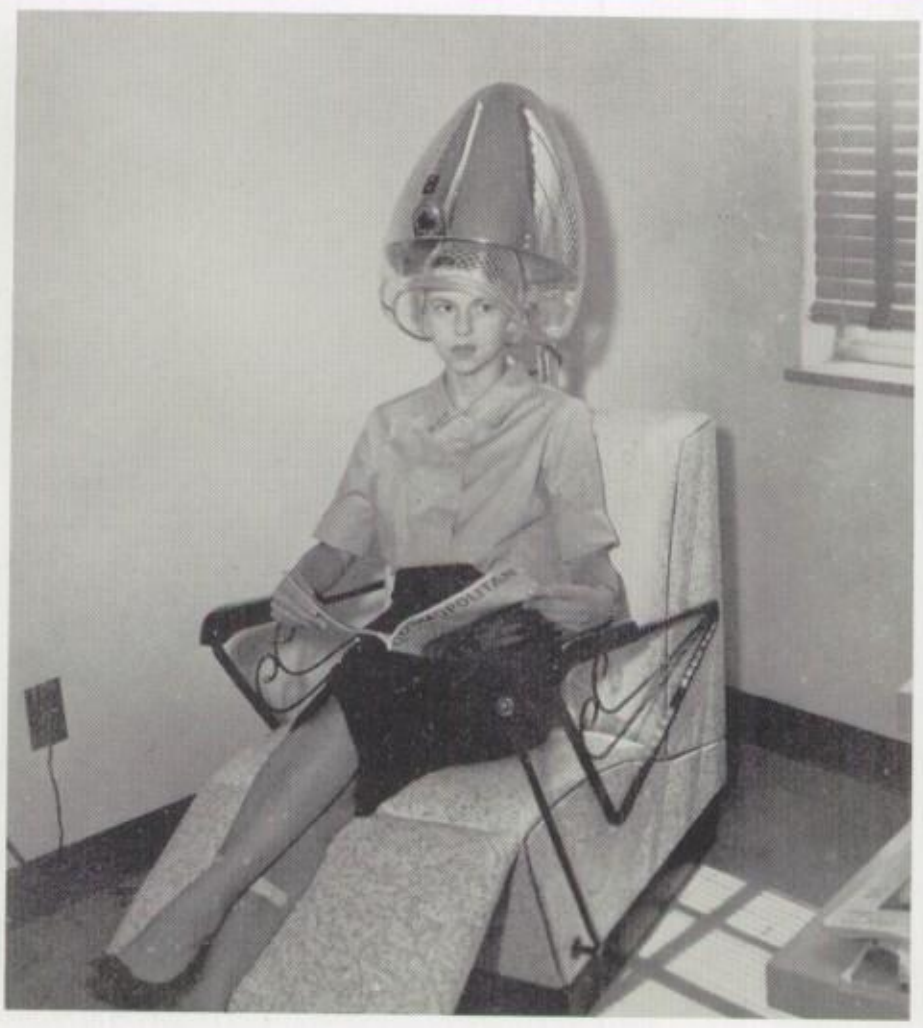
Big date tonight, Dave?

We really don't know, but we do know that Dave Riley will really look sharp after getting his hair cut at WASHINGTON MEADOWS BARBER SHOP on Whipp Road.

Pursue a hobby?
"Nope! Just girls!" says Dan Poff, taking after Judy Swanson. Well, however unusual your hobby and whatever you need to pursue it, you'll find it at JANSEN'S GIFT & HOBBY SHOP in Miamisburg.

"Ever see such beautiful hamburger?"
Gary Anderson knows what he's talking about! He can be proud of the hamburger and all the other fine foods at ANDERSON'S MARKET in Centerville.

Camera Bug? Shutter Hound?
It's PHOTOLEO in the Kettering Shopping Center for the finest in photographic supplies and equipment. PHOTOLEO also carries a complete line of greeting cards.



The Martians have landed?
Oh no! Leslie Whitehead's just discovered how beautifully she can have her hair fixed at BERT'S BEAUTY SALON in Centerville. Even a Martian can be beautiful with a little help from BERT'S.

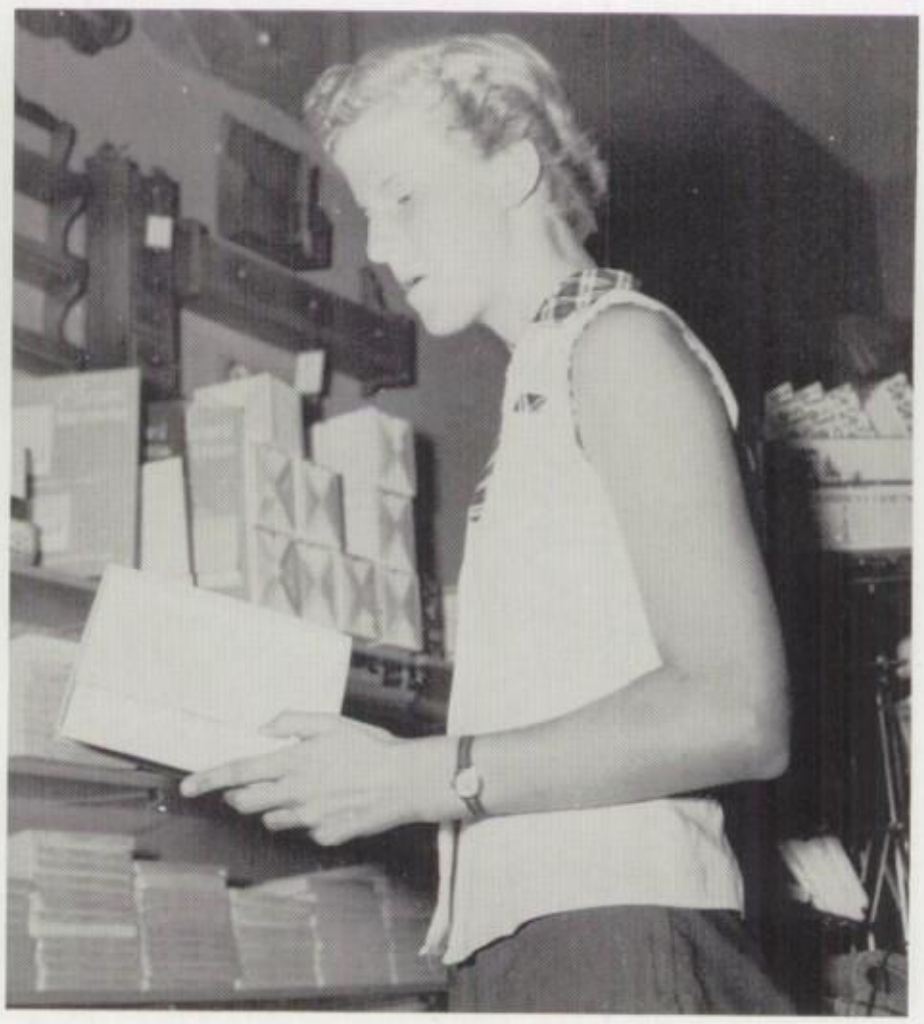
Heat bother you?
Looks like poor Claire Soloman didn't quite make it to the COMFORT CONTROL HEATING and AIR CONDITIONING COMPANY in Centerville. "Too bad," says Tim Thomas, "COMFORT CONTROL could have solved all her air conditioning problems!" Next time you feel a case of heat prostration coming on, think of COMFORT CONTROL.

It can't be that bad!
Poor Linda Anglemyer loves flowers but just doesn't seem to have a "green thumb." Ever think of MITMAN'S FLORISTS on Far Hills Avenue? That way even a non-gardener can have the loveliest flowers in town!



"I'll take ten!"
Says Belinda Beecher, an ambitious letter writer. Whether you're corresponding with an army, as Belinda is, or if your letters are few and far between, you'll find all stationery supplies at JEMIMA RUSSELL'S in the Town & Country Shopping Center.

"Will you marry me?"
Says Leland Dickey to Judy Ewing. What girl could refuse, especially if the diamond is from WARNER'S JEWELERS in Kettering?

What's she hiding from?
Louise Hutchins isn't really hiding — she just happens to think that tile from REEVE'S FLOOR AND TILE COMPANY in Oakwood is worth showing off—and she's right!

"Moments to Remember"
There seems to be something special about a prom that you don't ever want to forget, doesn't there? And thanks to POWELL STUDIOS, Oakwood Avenue, who did the photography for our prom, Linda Drean and Larry Johnson will long remember the magic of "Bali Ha'i."

We Stand on our Heads to Please You!!

Phil, Larry Arnold, and Bill McEwen seem to be saying that PHIL & JERRY'S FOOD-ARAMA on West Whipp Road will do anything to keep customers happy—even to the point of making monkeys of the carry-out boys. Getting a head start, Larry?

"Two heads are better than one"
As any two-headed Centerville teacher will testify. "And eight eyes are better than four," continues Mr. Weidner-Marker, one (or two) of our more distinguished faculty members, "especially if four of them come from TOWN & COUNTRY OPTICAL in the Town and Country Shopping Center.

make no small plans for your future

Today's exciting era of rapid discovery and almost unbelievable technological progress opens up scores of richly rewarding opportunities for the youth of America.

Thousands upon thousands of well-educated young people are needed to fill the exacting demands of engineering, the arts, social sciences, medicine, finance, aviation, electronics, and business.

Your diploma signifies you have successfully completed that first long step toward greater responsibilities as you enter the career of your choice.

This is an ideal moment for you to chart your future. Make your plans BIG ONES! Think highly of your abilities and possibilities.

Whatever degree of success you may achieve, let it be your personal goal at all times to add new honor to Washington Township High School.

The National Cash Register Company

Lose an argument with Rick? "Better duck that right!" advises Eddie Bell, as he and Marg Kline carry Barbi Swindler into the clinic for the fourth time in one day. Poor Barbi! Seems like she loses every fight she picks! It's a good thing she's insured with BUCKEYE STATE MUTUAL INSURANCE, whose local agent is Earl Thomas.

"Of course, not EVERYONE can sing!" says Judy Swanson, comfortingly. While she consoles Steve Paul about his "musical inability," she can tell him about the ROETTER MUSIC COMPANY at 51 N. Main. With practice, Steve might just learn to play something—huh, Steve?

"I can't do a thing with my hair!!" says Sally Lang. If your hair tends to "stand on end" every time you get near a Van de Graff generator, why not take a trip to the WASHINGTON MEADOWS BEAUTY SALON on West Whipp Road?

Suffer from strange impulses? If, like Joyce Bussard, you just can't resist beautiful jewelry, we suggest you visit TOWN & COUNTRY JEWELERS in the Town & Country Shopping Center. Also, if you have about ten years to spare, you might try Joyce's unique method of shoplifting.

Don't feed the animals
Here we have a bunch of typical CHS natives-er-fans during halftime at the basketball game. That starved look may be attributed to the fact that they haven't had their popcorn yet—all of which leads to the fact that CHS popcorn comes in bags from the LOTZ PAPER CO.

HEY! Who threw that?!
Yells Dale Rineer, proud member of one of the most alert classes at CHS. Actually, the paperwad was not what snapped Dale wide awake. He thought he heard someone say DOROTHY LANE MARKET. If you're wondering why the rest of the class is still asleep, it's because they're happily dreaming of pretzels and potato chips from the same place—DOROTHY LANE MARKET on Far Hills Avenue.

Terrible Accident?

Not at all! Just a CHS car decorated for a CHS caravan to a CHS game. Things are getting pretty bad when you can't tell an accident from a case of school spirit! If you're afflicted with the latter, try supporting the team; but if an accident is your problem, contact the PAUL E. SWARTZEL INSURANCE CO. at 2600 Far Hills Avenue in Oakwood.

GIMME!!

Shriek juniors, Vicki Wroe and Joan Houston, meanwhile yanking the poor teddy bear apart, piece by piece. The fact that the bear is from WOODARD'S HARDWARE AND VARIETY STORE in Centerville is the reason for the tug-of-war. But why fight? There's more teddy bears where he came from!

"NO NO,—NOT THAT!!!

Screams John Hartranft in terror as hard-as-nails Steve Paul orders him into a room filled with maddened football players, recently defeated by CHS. A fate worse than death! John wouldn't worry, if he were insured by STATE FARM INSURANCE, whose local agent is Jim Hooghe. He might be torn limb from limb, but with STATE FARM behind him, who cares?

"Talk about Censorship!!"

Says editor Linda Drean, as she views her "revised" copy with horror. Well, even if Linda's gallant attempt to publish final exam answers was a failure, she couldn't have picked a better publisher than MOUND PRINTING in Miamisburg.

Overexposed? Underdeveloped?
Or is Lynn Dickey really a Jivaro Head-Shrinker in disguise? If overexposure or underveloping are Lynn's picture taking problems, she can go to the MALONE CAMERA SHOP in the Town and Country Shopping Center, and her worries will be over. If she's a head-shrinker, then Ron Stingley's worries will be over!

"I'll take the cowboy boots!"
Says Emily Schuring. Poor Emily really had a tough time deciding, but finally came to the conclusion that she couldn't have the cowboy boots and the combat boots, too! Where else but at SCHIFF'S in the Town and Country Shopping Center could she find shoes for every occasion?

"WAIT A MINUTE!!"
Says Karen Andrasik, deciding she doesn't want a "pixie" after all. Oh dear—too late! "Well, how about a 'crewcut'," asks Ron Hahan, deciding he doesn't want to be a barber, anyway. Tsk! Tsk! Karen should have called the FLORENCE WARWICK BEAUTY SALON in Oakwood.

CALL A PLUMBER!!
Looks like Don Overman's finger is all that's keeping his basement dry. Hope he can last until the plumber from STEBBINS PLUMBING on East Dixie Drive comes. If not, he can order a rowboat while he's on the phone.

Dinner is served!!
A la Diana Liffick, of course. Poor Diana! She might have guessed the menu when "witchdoctor" Jim Hartranft and the "Cannibal Kids" invited her to dinner. However, if Jim wanted to give a party with a really unusual motif and decorations, he should have called ARROW WINE in Oakwood. You know—ARROW, for the unusual.

In the doghouse?
Lord Randolph is. But that's not the reason for his "hang-dog" expression. He's wishing he were a people so he could have a dog-or-peoplehouse built by CORNELL BUILDERS, 4855 Bigger Road.

The morning after!
Those slumber parties do get a bit wild, don't they girls? If you're feeling a little under the weather like Sue Wallace and her "beat" buddies, Lynn Puterbaugh and Sue Gustin, why not try ANDERSON'S DRUGS in Miamisburg?

What's this stuff?!
Collecting for the March of Dimes? No? Oh, so that's it! The Kent Zimmerman-Larry Brown Relief Fund. Bet Johnny Dusseau wishes he had opened a savings account at MUTUAL FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN in Miamisburg. With "friends" like these, he needs one!!

Kind of sharp, huh?
This boy knows how to dress! And he knows where to buy, too! Where? Why, MAYER'S LAD 'N DAD SHOP in Oakwood, of course!

"Let's buy it!"
Say Rick Miller and Barbi Swindler, agreeing that this love-seat's most attractive feature is its decided lack of room. Rick may change his mind when his legs go to sleep, but at the moment, he's satisfied with ALL the furniture from SOUTH DAYTON HOME FURNISHINGS, on Rt. 25.

Yep! That's Denny Shaffer—always under a mound of sports equipment! That way, he's ready for anything—football, baseball, basketball, golf, you name it. We don't know where Denny gets his energy, but his equipment comes from JIM FLYNN'S on First and Jefferson Streets, Dayton.

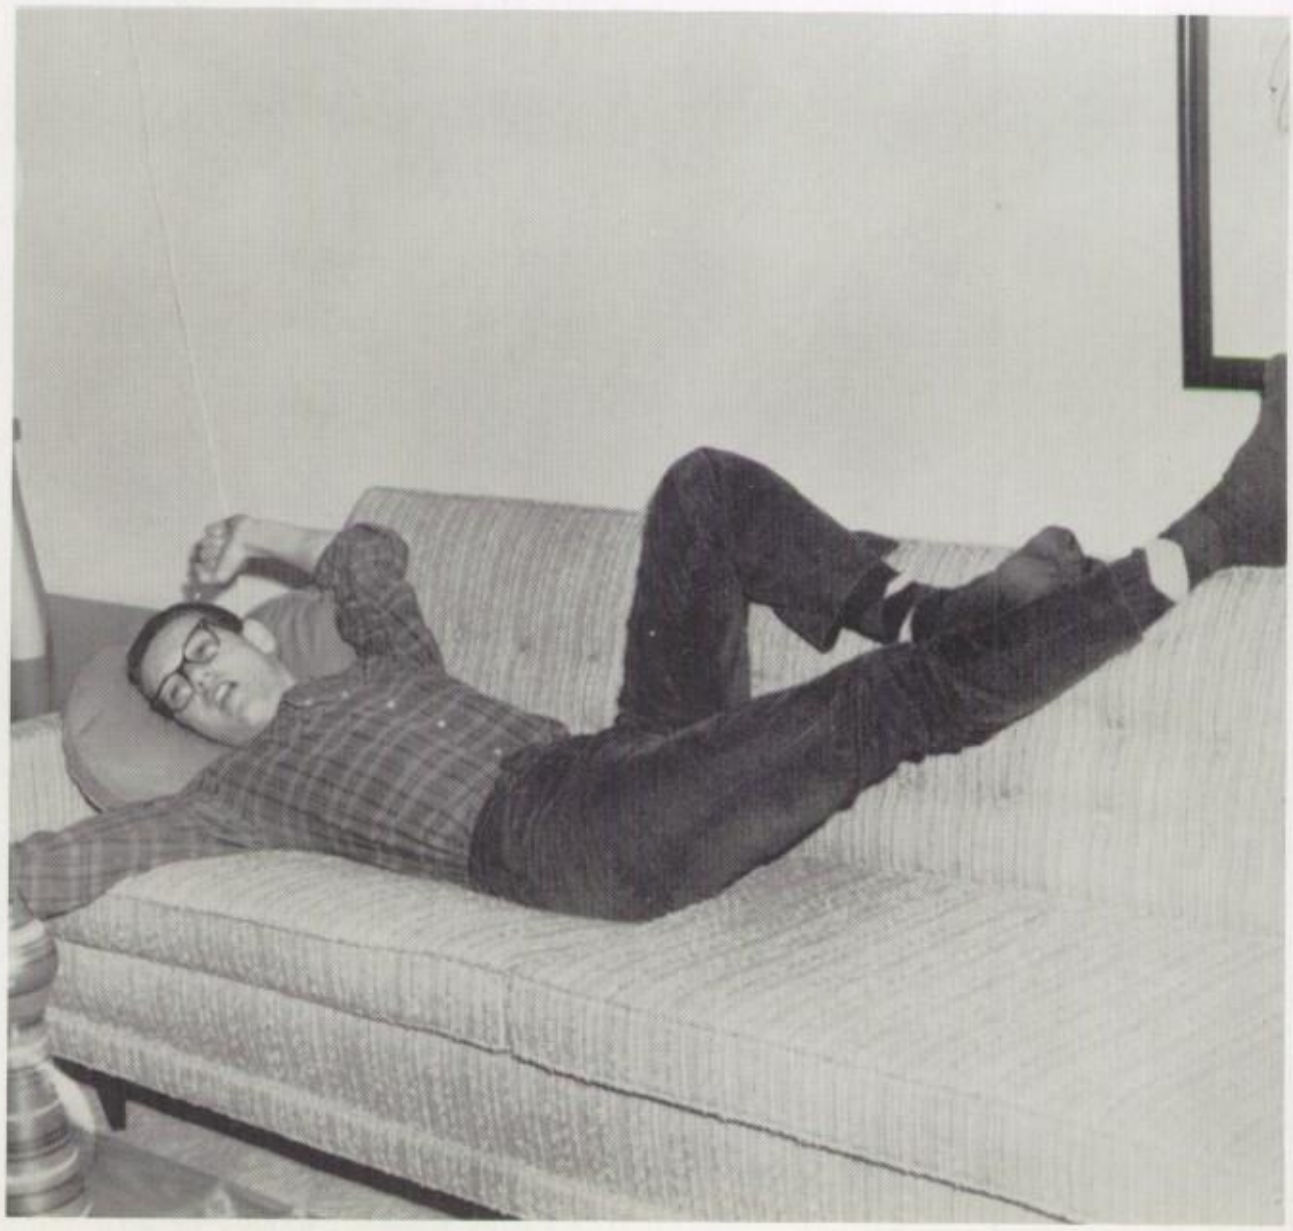
Who stole the rubber band?
Looks like more car trouble for Karen McKinstry and Bruce Boyle and another trip to the FAR HILLS GULF STATION in Oakwood. Karen and Bruce know they can find a complete supply of carborators, pistons, mufflers, and rubber bands at FAR HILLS GULF.

Teacher's pet?
"Who, me?" says Jackie Pummill, presenting Mr. Griesmyer with an apple. Mr. Griesmyer, though a strictly unbiased teacher, has to give an "A" to this apple. That's because it's from the MAIN AND HELENA SUPERMARKET, Dayton.

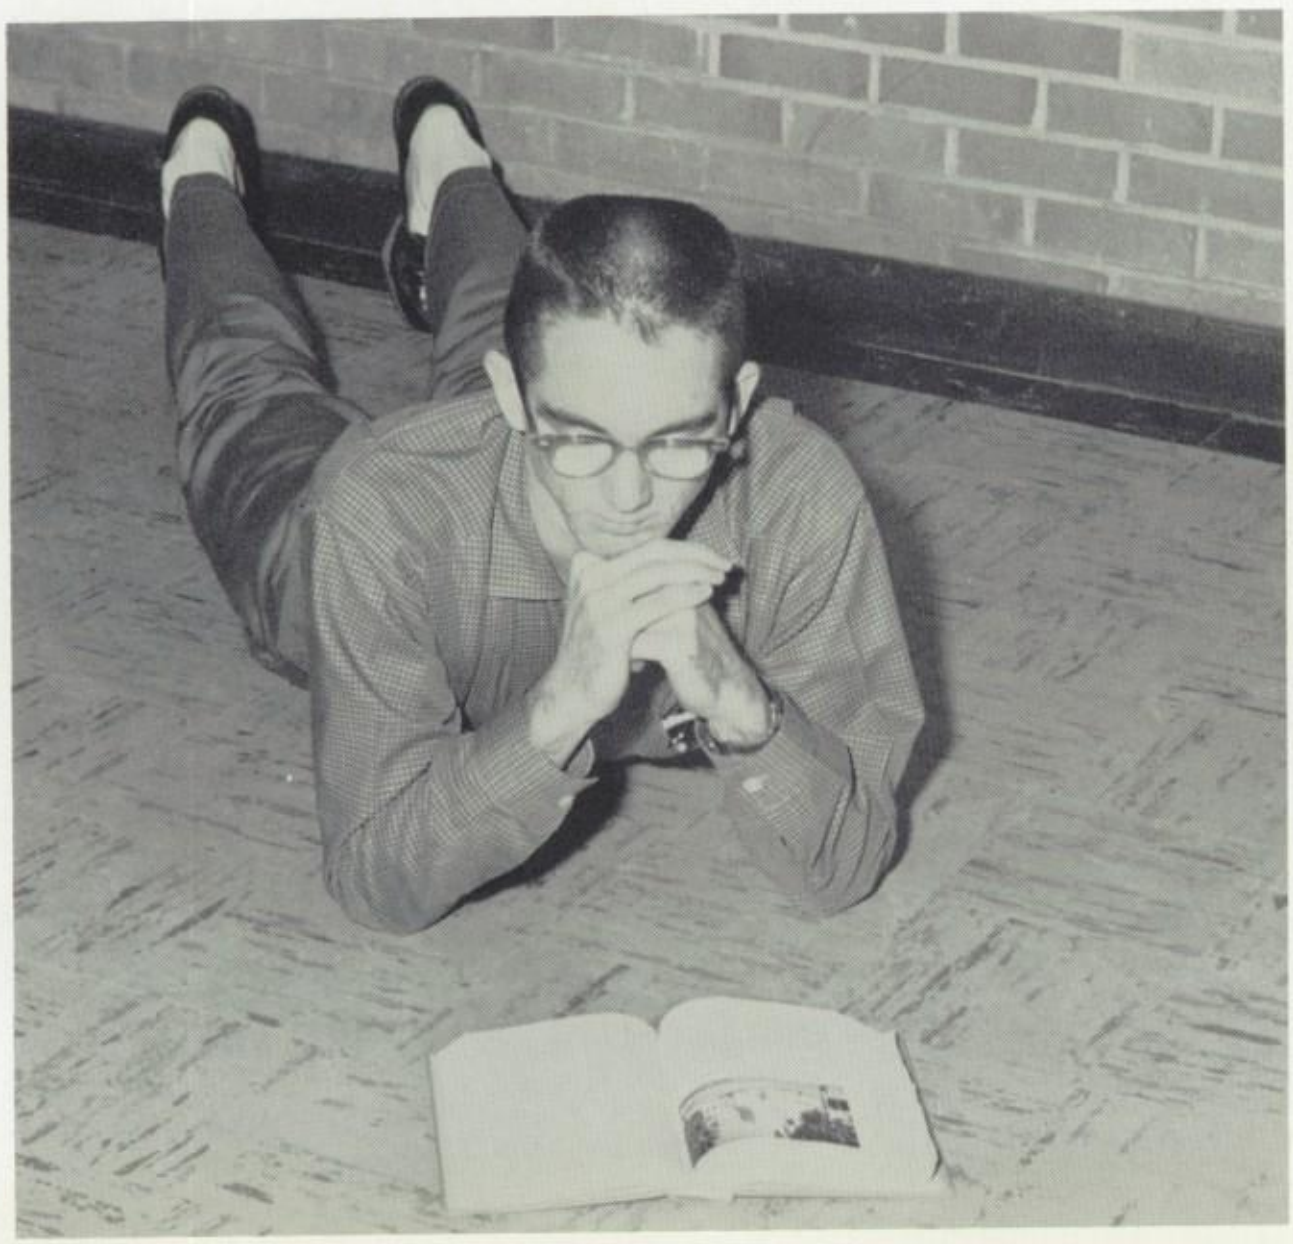
It shouldn't happen to a Dodge!
This sad example of a jalopy just goes to prove that old cars never die—they just fall apart! If your present car is so slow that you can get where you're going faster by walking, it's time to trade it in on a new Dodge from DRAYER MOTORS in Miamisburg.

Going somewhere?
"Yep!" says Connie Jackson, who just got her P.O.D. report card. The next time you plan to leave home, be sure and call Helen H. Jackson, agent and vice-president of the COOPER INSURANCE COMPANY. Get a trip-travel accident and baggage policy and go carefree! What's the number? TU 5-7117 or BA 2-2817.

"A man's home is his castle!"
Yawns Tanny Swango. Some castle! Tanny's particular castle was built by the SWANGO CONSTRUCTION CO., which is widely known for superlative castle construction. Whenever you're in the market for a castle—or a home—remember the SWANGO CONSTRUCTION CO.



Every man for himself!!
This is a pizza party and a reasonably peaceful one—that is, until someone brought in a pizza. Then, unfortunately, there were a few casualties in the rush to get a piece. Of course, there's only one kind of pizza which gets such a reaction. That's the pizza from VIC CASSANO'S AND MOM DONISI'S on Far Hills Avenue!



Like to read?
Apparently Al Waldrop does. Though we can suggest better places to bury one's nose in a book than the middle of the main hall at CHS, we can't suggest any better reading material than that printed by the OTTERBEIN PRESS, 230 West Fifth St.

Butterfingers!
Fixing things just doesn't seem to be Bill Mitchell's strong point, does it? Today, he decided to fix that leaky faucet and though he hasn't made it to the kitchen yet, he's dropped that wrench seven times! He should call the plumbers at T. E. DUNLEVEY. They're much more dependable!

"I don't have a thing to wear!"
Says Mike Allan, clutching his blanket a little closer. Mike is always making excuses. Of course, for more formal occasions, he may need a little more than a blanket. In that event, he can go to the FAMOUS CLOTHING STORE, on West Third Street.

Shrinking horsepower?
Not exactly, but Mr. Leyda—aren't we carrying this "compact car" thing a little too far? Compact cars are fine, of course, for compact people. But for large, economy-sized people, like Mr. Leyda, we recommend a large, economy-sized car; namely the 1960 BUICK from PATTERSON BUICK in Miamisburg.

"Oh, you doll, you!!!"
Says Goergia Long, who's not conceited, merely convinced. Georgia's not always like this, but she's just been to FORTH HAIRDRESSERS in Oakwood. You'd be convinced, too!

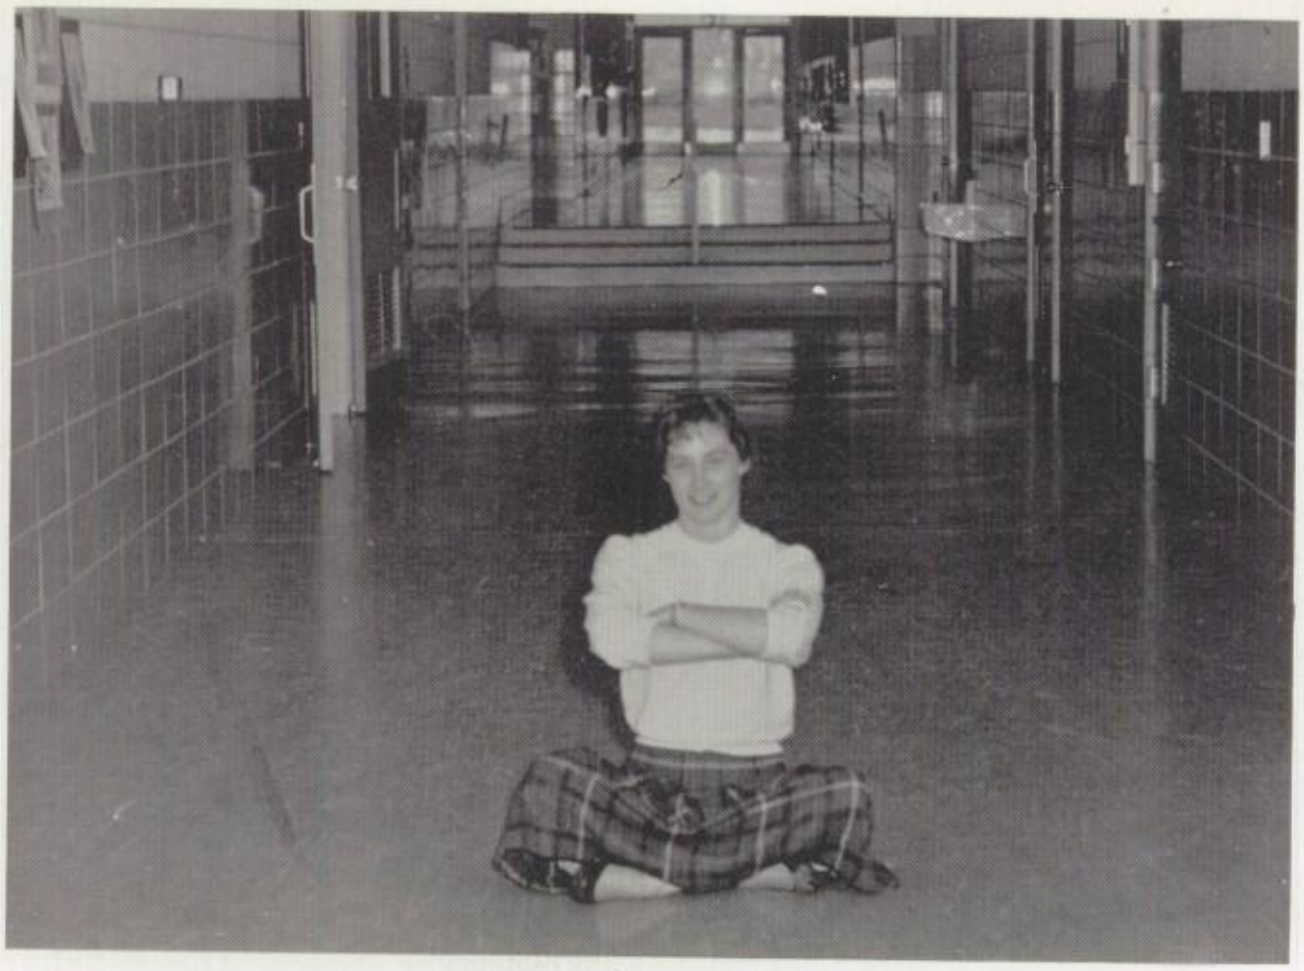
"Uh—I don't think that's the brake."
Says Mr. Longcrick, as he is run down by an enthusiastic pupil. That's the third driver-training teacher this week. "Oh well! Live and learn," says Mr. Longcrick philosophically. What more efficient way to do in a driver-training teacher than with a 1960 FORD from STUEVE'S in Miamisburg?

Emily Post, anyone?
Though a bit short on manners at times (two sandwiches in one bite) these boys are certainly long on appetite. And why not? Those sandwiches are from the CHEESEMAN in Oakwood!

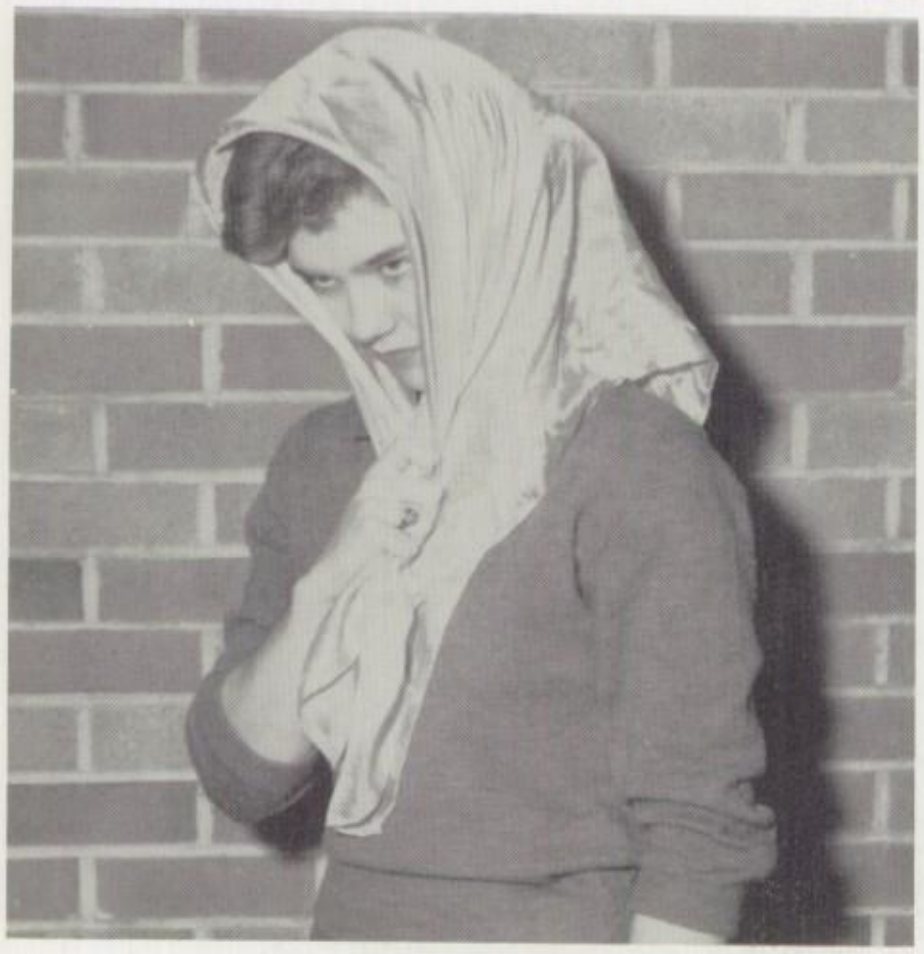
Man, like WOW!
One of the cardinal rules of Beatnik Philosophy is, of course, that no member stoop so low as to furnish his "pad". But even these "cool ones" dig the collection at SHIRLEY'S FURNITURE in Miamisburg.

Well, whaddaya know!
It's Jolly Rogers and Dave Hull—two of our favorite DJ's. Jolly and Dave may be heard, along with the best in music and news, on WONE every day and night. Who are the two characters in the corner? Looks like Judy James and Derek Clawson! How'd they get in the picture?

Blow, Gabriel, blow!
If Connie Kress looks a little purple faced right now, it's because she lost her mouthpiece, and the only thing coming from that trumpet is a good, stiff wind. For mouthpieces, or whatever musical equipment you have in mind, the DAYTON BAND INSTRUMENT COMPANY, 148 N. Main Street is the place to go.



Chief Sitting Bull?
Nope! Chief Sandy Owen holding heap big pow-wow in main hall of George L. Ernst School, which was built by the OWEN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY on McEwen Road. Why hold a pow-wow here? Don't ask us! Ask the photographer! He's the one who takes these ridiculous pictures!



Look ashamed!!
Poor Pam Depew! She's hiding her head in shame because she did her hair by herself and goofed. Guess she's learned her lesson! Next time she'll go to PIATT'S BEAUTY SALON on Clyo Road. Then she can show her face again.

"It's the latest thing"
Says Nancy Eck, holding up her newest skirt—all eleven inches of it. Uh—Nancy, we know knees are showing this year, but let's be sensible! Whether you like short skirts, long skirts, or slacks, you'll find the latest in fashions at TOOT'S AND GERRY'S SIS AND MISS SHOP in Miamisburg.

Beautiful day for a drive!!
If you're an Eskimo, that is. There's only six inches of snow on the ground! Obviously, the only thing that could possibly bring out a carload of students on a day like this—with the top down, no less—is the brand new PHILLIPS 66 SERVICE STATION, built right in the heart of Centerville by the DAVIS OIL COMPANY.

Cramped for space?
Obviously Derek Clawson and whoever belongs to that other pair of masculine legs don't mind having five people in one chair, but the girls could use a little more room. If fine furniture is what you're looking for, try GEBHART AND SCHMIDT in Miamisburg.

"I'm engaged!"
The beauty of this graceful hand is surpassed only by the dazzle of the lovely diamond from RIFE JEWELERS. If diamonds are a girl's best friend, she'll love RIFE'S, Oakwood.

The well-dressed man
BUYS his clothes at SUTTMAN'S in Miamisburg. Unlike Vern Lauer, who also likes to be well dressed, he does not use tactics such as these. Wonder if Vern looks good in stripes?

"BIG DECISION"

Sue Heckman can't decide which frames she likes best—the brown ones, the blue ones, etc. This isn't too much of a catastrophe, however, considering that Sue doesn't wear glasses. She can take her time, though at TRUMAN OPTICIANS, 104 North Main Street, Dayton. When she finally makes up her mind, she'll probably have to have glasses, anyway!

"Hey! I found a parking place!"

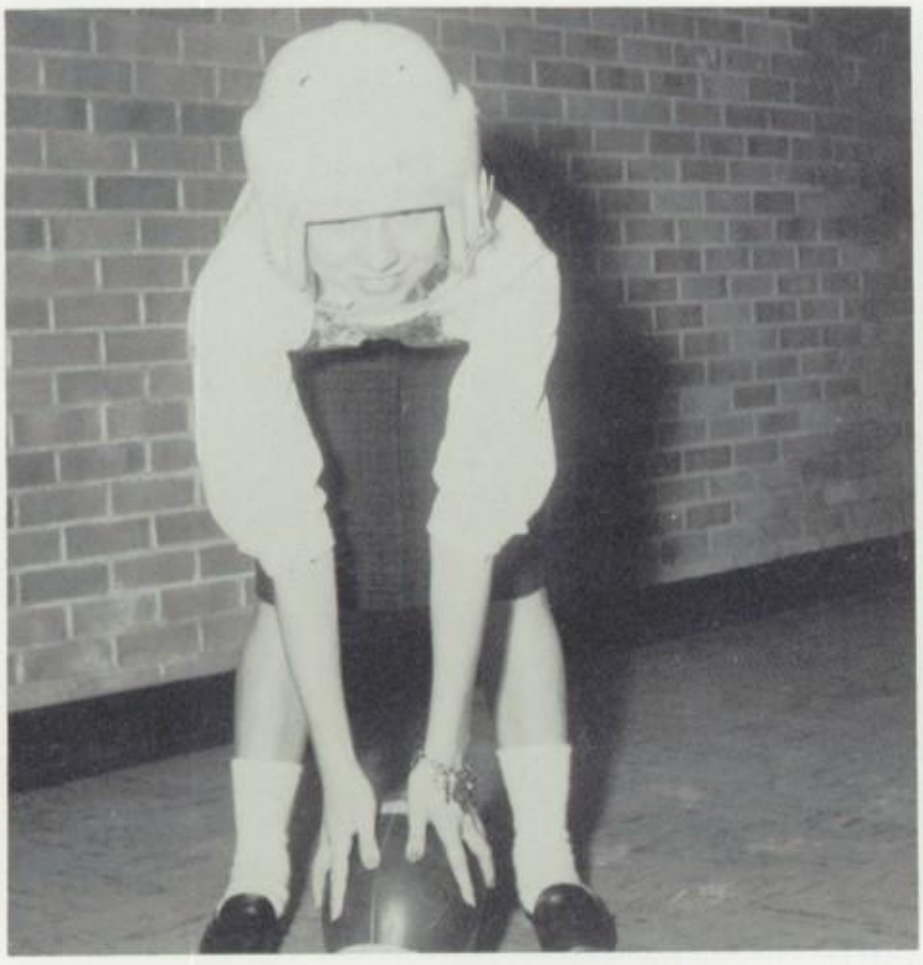
"Now I can buy a car!!" Yells triumphant Janet Rhoades, preparing to defend to the death her twenty feet of curb space. If you find parking space as scarce as Janet does, why not try the TALBOT BUILDING GARAGE.

"I caught it myself!!"

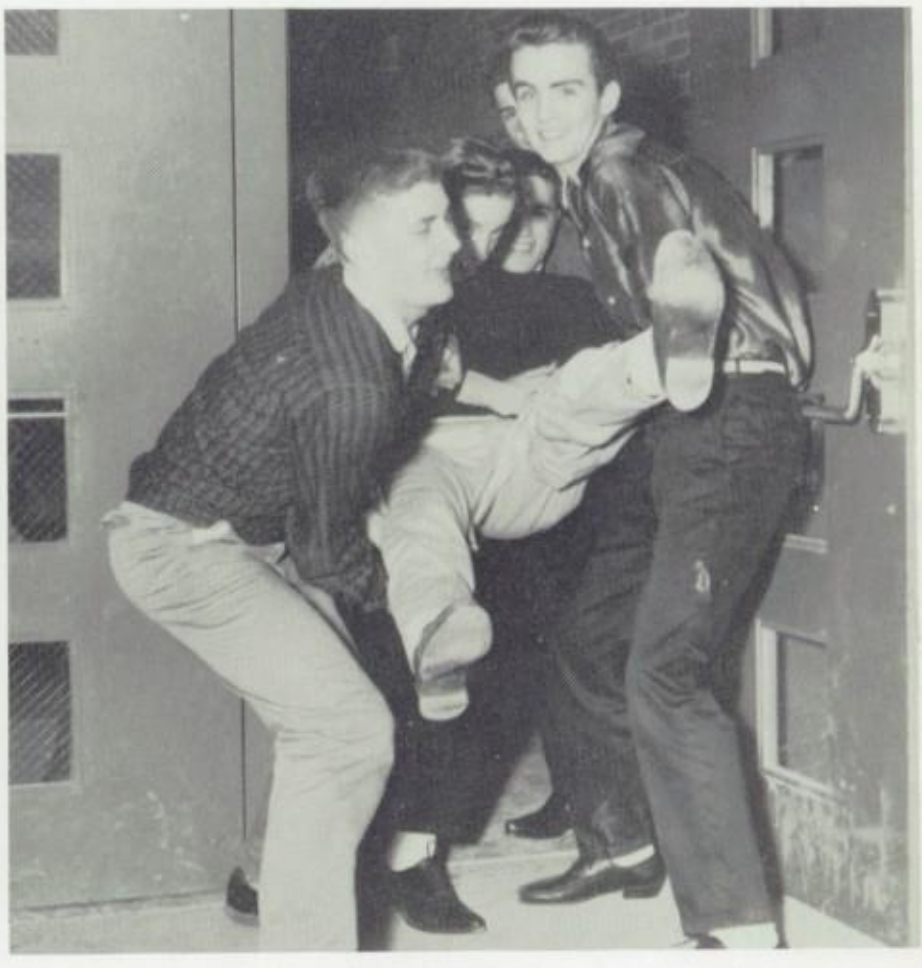
Says Carol Back displaying her newest creation, a necklace composed of the molars of a rather large bear that had the misfortune to tangle with Carol. Of course, for those timid souls who like jewelry with a touch of originality but prefer not to risk life and limb while obtaining it, we recommend WIKEL JEWELERS.

Afraid of heights?
"Darn right!!" shriek Suzie Kastens and Sandy Clark, teetering precariously. Whether planning to take a header out of a tenth story window or merely off the bleachers, why not contact your nearest LUSENHOP INSURANCE agent? He's always glad to pick up the pieces!

Operation petticoat!
Well, here's one way to make a lasting impression! Just wear petticoats—and more petticoats—and more petticoats! Bet Judy Julian has a fascinating time getting all of those petticoats home. If you like petticoats, too—and other clothes, you'll find them all at the MARY ANN SHOP in Miamisburg.



"1-2-3-4 HIKE!!"
Growls quarterback Beth Johns, intending to murder the opposition. Actually, what really tends to confuse the opposition is the fact that Beth is a girl. Strange isn't it, that boys won't tackle a girl? —on the football field, anyway. Where does Beth get her sports equipment? WILLY'S SPORTS SHOP in Miamisburg!



"I've been thrown out of better places!"
Yells Larry Arnold, as he gets the old "heave-ho" from DENISTON OLDSMOBILE in Miamisburg. Seems Larry took a new 1960 OLDSMOBILE for a trial ride and tried to trade it in when he came back! Better luck next time, Larry!

Where'd everybody go?
Empty halls around Centerville are about as scarce as the proverbial "hen's tooth." Well, they were until the kids heard about the new 1960 PONTIAC at PATTERSON PONTIAC in Miamisburg. They couldn't even wait till school was out to see it!

Junior rings are here again!

THE FIVE WHEELS CAR POOL

"Oh dear!"
Says Penny Shroyer, who accidentally looked in the mirror before breakfast. Penny is one of those people who don't wake up till about noon. One look sent her scurrying to LEONARD'S HAIR FASHION SALON in Oakwood for a new hairdo. She knows that LEONARD'S specializes in "Fashions that go to your head."

Get a horse!
Vicki Wroe and Marquita List get ready for the coming shows this summer.

"Chivalry is NOT dead!!"
Announces Tim "Sir Walter Rauleigh" Patterson, preparing to wade bravely through the mud puddle with "damsel-in-distress" Louise Hutchins. "Sir Tim's" noble intentions are inspired mainly by Louise's new shoes which she can't bear to see ruined. That's because they're from WARD'S SHOES in the Town & Country Shopping Center.

"Watch out! The guard's coming!!"

Whisper Rosemary Stouder, Jean Manny, and Carolyn Glessner, as they look forward to another day at. CHS. This is an institution of higher learning? Actually, those "bars" are venetian blinds from the MECKSTROTH-REGER SHADE SHOP on West Whipp Road and the girls are subtly hinting that MECKSTROTH-REGER is the place to go for all your decorating problems.

D-DAY! WE MADE IT!!

Here we present the survivors of the 1960 ELKONIAN STAFF—tired, but infinitely wiser. Now, we can look back and laugh at the last minute pictures that didn't turn out, the reams of copy we wrote and had to write again, the gallons of gas we used selling ads, and the grim faces that greeted us when we didn't get back on time. It was a little hectic at times, but we can all truthfully say that we never lost interest. We only hope that you enjoy reading the 1960 ELKONIAN as much as we enjoyed creating it.

Dear Readers of the 1960 ELKONIAN:

The yearbook staff presents to you the 1960 ELKONIAN with the hope that through pictures and words we have provided you with lasting memories of the story of our year. To accomplish this we added twenty-four pages, featuring a ten-page introductory section and an index. Other additions are color, original endsheets, and an embossed cover.

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to those who have contributed their time and talent to the 1960 ELKONIAN. Most deserving of our appreciation is our adviser, Mrs. Anglemyer, whose experience and patience guided us throughout the year. We appreciate very much the co-operation of Mr. Noffsinger and the faculty. Thanks also to Mr. Coy of Powell Studios for his time and skill in photography; to Taylor Yearbook Company for their advice and assistance; and to all our advertisers and patrons.

The record of 1959-60 is finished, but the story lives on as the influence of this year at Centerville is reflected in our lives.

Sincerely,

The ELKONIAN Staff

Thanks for all your help
this year to make our yearbook
such a success!
Good luck in the

Karen,

To a real sweet girl or should I say sister-in-law. Anyone my brother would loose would have to be tops and I agree with him. Best of everything to you and "Doc"

"Sandy"

Dear Karen,

One of my better buddies. I f it weren't for you I might never have gotten to school. We've had a lot of fun together all through our Junior year. Be good to Johnny and love him always. Can I be your "personal punch power" at your reception?

Lots 'a luck.

Connie
